Vol. 80

Bangor High School

Bangor, Maine

Sit by my side
Come as close as the air
Share in a memory of grace
Wander in my words
Dream about the pictures that I play

With changes.

The world spinning madly
Adrift in dark
Swings through a hollow of haze
A race around the stars
A journey through the Universe ablaze

With changes.

Moments of magic
Will glow in the night
All fears of the forest are gone
But when the morning breaks
They're swept away by golden drops of dawn

And changes.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Peakes

"The true teacher...does not define the thin line between giving and receiving."

Mrs. Peakes is an example of a true teacher. Her dedication and devotion to the students of Bangor High School is outstanding. She not only passes on the knowledge of subject material, but she gives a love of peace and humanity to all who touch her. It is appropriate, therefore, for the students of Bangor High to create this yearbook in honor of Mrs. Peakes.

The American Field Service is a path to international friendship. We are a group of people who want to give something to each other. We learn about and become sensitive to cultures and customs other than our own. Our annual A.F.S. exchange students enable us to come acquainted with our common element of humanity.

Why the A.F.S. club is such a happy group of people: Because we are dealing with an idea you can really get enthusiastic about--that we can accomplish international understanding by exchanging young people from all over the world. You have the wonderful opportunity to broaden your own point of view. I have learned to give more of myself and to take more than I've ever given or taken before.

A. F. S. is really a unique experience--a tremendous friendmaking machine moved by a spirit which involves friendship, interest, respect, consideration, and an unparalleled excitement. It is so great when you find out the countless number of people all over the world who are ready to help you and be your friend. I feel very lucky, and so are all the other A. F. S. PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS: THE STATE OF STUDENT COUNCILS

Student councils were devised to give young people a chance to learn how to participate in their system so that when they are exposed to the real government they are aptly prepared.

Our purpose, on this student council, was not to provide real groovy dances for the students, but to give all students, regardless of race, color, or creed, a chance to become involved in the governmental system of the school. The reason we promoted this involvement philosophy is simple-by being aware and becoming involved, a citizen can have a voice in our system. An aware and involved individual can help create the code by which we live.

Mike Whitney

Photo Club-

The advisor of the photography club this year is the noted mathmatician turned photographer, "Daddy" Diamond. He has given excellent instruction to not only novice photographers ("Now this is a camera and..."), but also to the more advanced photographers of the school ("Always remember to shut the dark room door while developing film.")

The photography club is responsible for taking some of the pictures that are put into the yearbook, and they also do work for the school paper. In addition, it serves as a purely recreational organization in which students may take up photography and learn anything from the basics to advanced techniques in the art of photography.

The Latin Club high points include attending the Junior Classical League district meeting at Winslow, with plans for a Roman Saturnalia festival in December, a Spring banquet, and participating in the J.C.L. We also explored the different areas of teaching, such as Head Start and working with the handicapped. We hope we've been a help to the students of BHS who are thinking about teaching as a career. Our officers are Carol Hamm, vice-president; Cindy Eaton, treasurer; Sherry Wolfe, Secretary; and Mary Honey, president.

Debate Club is beneficial to its members as it teaches them "how to get up and think on their feet," explains the club's advisor, Craig Abbott. It is encouraging to note that two or three years of debating invariably develops one into a "top" speaker. A new topic is introduced and deeply researched each year. This year's topic concerns the need for significant change in the U.S. Jury System.

Mini-P.A.C.

The Mini-P.A.C. is the student equivalent of the P.A.C., Principal's Advisory Committee, composed of our school's department heads and key personnel. The Mini-P.A.C. representatives are elected in each home base and are responsible for conveying the opinions and questions of the homebase students to the principal. This weekly confrontation keeps the principal aware of the problems, successes, and suggestions of the students and, in turn, informs the students as to what the administration is doing at BHS.

THE BANGOR HIGH RAM BAND

The band is one of the most active organizations in the school. In the past few years, the size of the Band has steadily increased and the acquisition of new uniforms in 1971 was a welcome addition. Besides playing at football and basketball games the band holds seasonal concerts, marches in numerous parades, and participates in an annual exchange concert with another band. Fun, work, and participation form the core of the functioning band.

Being a band member is not only a chance for extra-curricular activity and getting together with your friends but, also, is considered an academic course for which one receives a full credit each year.

MRS. BROOKS

Guidance Department

All students have been known to be in need of counselling during their high school years whether in the area of scheduling, future plans and education, or dealing with complications that arise as one becomes an adult. In order to meet the needs of each student on an individual basis, the Model Schools Program provided for the home base teacher to function as an advisor for the twenty students in their homebase. A student has the same teacher-advisor all during high school and has the opportunity to develop a personal relationship. The guidance office, as always, welcomes all students who wish professional counselling or wish simply to browse through the abundance of information concerning colleges and careers.

Administration

MR. LUNDQUIST

"I once heard a professor of school administration at the University of Maine say 'show me your principal and I will know what kind of school you have'," Mr. Lundquist recalls. "It is up to the principal to set the tone for the high school.

"I feel it is administrative responsibility to keep a feeling of academic freedom going throughout the school; to see that no teachers or student need be afraid to express his views or to press for improvements. It is my job to have enough guts to take an unpopular stand if necessary; to stick my neck out for the good of the school and to make things go smoothly.

"Finding all these qualities in one man is probably impossible but most high school administrators are judged on how close they come."

The class of 1972 has done new and exciting things. We have proved that we are a spirited, innovative, and determined group. We have taken part in all aspects of school life. Through community programs, we have shown our concern in local problems. Our years at Bangor High School have been memorable and rewarding.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. Your High School diploma is all the experience you need. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

I. thoughts about the hereafter

(or . . . is there a life after graduation?)
Seriously, graduation isn't the end, you know. It's just the beginning. And it could be the beginning of one of the most challenging and fulfilling times of your life. At New England Telephone. It could be, that is, if you want a job with a challenge as big as your ambition. We need people at New England Telephone -- all kinds. People who are sincerely interested in the future. And who are looking for more from their job than just work!

Your starting salary is good and you get automatic raises. You don't need experience. Your advancement is tailored to your talents. And you get exciting fringe benefits.
