A Good Catch from Goddard Brook, One of the Tributaries of Square Lake, in the Famous Maine Woods Vacation Country

Getting Supper at One of the Vacation Spots Near Sewall's Camps

The Maine Woods—The Premier Vacation Country

“IN the Maine Woods” is planned as an annual invitation to those who have yet to experience the pleasures of a vacation in the vast wonderland which is traversed by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad and which is appropriately titled “the nation’s playground,” and for the women and men already devotees of the woods, it will serve as a souvenir of happy holidays passed in this premier pleasure place. The Maine woods present a wonderfully varied vacation program. Formerly the appeal of the woods was largely to hunters and fishermen but now it is a much wider circle that is reached by the magic call of the open. In other days few were the women who could boast of having had a vacation in the woods. To be sure there were the feminine pioneers who were not discouraged by the inconvenience of tedious and roundabout journeys to reach Moosehead or Ambajejus or perhaps Mt. Katahdin, but to most women a trip to the woods in former times was indeed an undertaking calling for intrepidity and endurance. Now, however, with the extension of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, a transportation system, modern in every sense of the word, reaching the vacation places in the Maine woods means traveling with all the comforts as between New York and Washington or other metropolitan centers.

the different centers in the Maine woods.

Despite the modernity of getting there, the Maine woods still retain all the attractions and delights of the olden times, which is exactly as it should be. Guides and woodsmen are picturesque as of yore; the canoe is still the favored craft, and the camps are built along the old lines to provide comfort and cheer. Yes, the Maine woods are among the few vacation places that have not been reached by the conventionaliz-

When the early enthusiasts started for a trip to Moosehead Lake, one of the earliest places to become famous, it meant a long stage-coach journey over roads none too smooth from Bangor to Greenville. The early visitors to Mt. Katahdin made the trip from Bangor, up the Penobscot River, by canoes with Old Town Indians as guides. Now practically any point on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad can be reached by an overnight trip from New York or Boston with arrival at the destination in the woods in time for mid-day dinner the following day. Pullman sleeping, parlor and dining cars, along with other up-to-the-minute improvements, have taken all the discomforts from traveling between cities and ing and hum-drum influences that have robbed so many localities of their charm.

As will be told in another chapter, the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, besides being the entrance to the Maine woods, also provides the best and quickest service to the great fishing and hunting country in New Brunswick, known as the Restigouche region; so that in addition to the splendid opportunities offered in Maine, there are the alluring offerings in Canada. The Bangor & Aroostook Railroad maintains at the office of its passenger traffic manager, Mr. George M. Houghton, a fully equipped vacation bureau which makes a specialty of furnishing information and giving suggestions regarding vacation plans in Maine or in the Restigouche country. Whether it is a canoe trip that is being talked of or a fishing or hunting excursion, or a camping expedition, or a climb up Mt. Katahdin, in sum, whatever form of diversion is desired, valuable assistance can be obtained from this bureau. It is axiomatic to dwell upon the health-giving properties of the air of the Maine woods. There are no more invigorating or strength-building breezes in all the world than the balsam-laden zephyrs that are ever present in the woods.

And as for hospitality,—the word is synonymous with Maine; and to all vacation-seekers, women or men or girls and boys, be their stays long or brief, the welcoming hand is extended.

THE FISH RIVER CHAIN OF LAKES

Long Lake
Mud Lake
Cross Lake
Square Lake

Eagle Lake
St. Froid Lake
Portage Lake
Big Fish Lake

UP in the top corner of the map of Maine — in the peak of the state that juts into Canada — is a chain of lakes known as the Fish River chain of lakes because the Fish River is the channel by which they flow north into the St. John River. The "chain" includes Long Lake, Mud Lake, Cross Lake, Square Lake, Eagle Lake, St. Froid Lake, Portage Lake and Big Fish Lake, all basins of good size. These lakes are comparatively new to sportsmen owing to the fact that they are in the section most recently opened up by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. However, they are fast winning fame and will soon be in the category with Moosehead, Chesuncook, Ambajejus, Pemadumcook and the other names that have been famous among fishermen for generations.

There are public camps conducted unusually well even for the Maine woods where most camps are of the first class, and the other waters are reached from connecting basins. On Portage Lake, for instance, are The Birches, Camp Iverson, Moose Point Camps, Oak Point Camps and Peters' Camps. The Big Fish Lake Camps are reached by way of Ashland, and on Square Lake are Square Lake Inlet Camps, reached from Guerette, and Square Lake Camps for which Stockholm is the railroad point.

The Titus Home Camps on Eagle Lake are unquestionably one of the finest outfits in the Maine woods. They are finely located on a lake which possesses uncommon attractions and the equipment is of the highest order. All the camps mentioned have a large patronage and offer advantages of location and variety of enjoyments that make them popular not only with the fishermen who come to participate in the fine angling, but by many men and women whose main object of a woods vacation is "just to enjoy life." All the Fish River Lakes are fine canoeing waters.

The salmon fishing in these North Aroostook waters cannot be excelled. The fish run to uncommon size. Fly fishing begins early in the spring, with the going out of the ice, and continues in not a few localities throughout the summer because, unlike many waters, these spring-fed lakes are always cool even during the hot weather of July and August. While salmon is the premier sport, there is also good lake-trout fishing and the numerous streams flowing into the lakes afford good opportunity for brook-trout angling. The consensus among the many fishermen who yearly go to the Fish River Lakes is that there are no fairer waters nor finer fish than these various basins and the prizes they yield.

Besides their prominence as fishing waters, the country in which is located the Fish River chain of lakes is a fine hunting section and many deer of good size are brought down from there.

Vacations for Women in the Woods

IT is a truism that the Maine woods, the great vacation land, have no more ardent devotees than the many women who yearly come to enjoy their holidays in fishing, camping, canoeing, tramping and the other health-giving recreations. And many a guide comes forward with expert testimony that there are no better "sports" than women. You will find expert anglers, skilled canoeists, adept campers, good shots and tireless trampers among the women who count the happiest days those they spend in the woods. In the canoeing season it is nothing unusual to see a party of women, with their guides, leaving Northeast Carry for the Allagash canoe trip or the shorter cruise down the west branch of the Penobscot; and again, many parties climbing Katahdin, Maine's premier peak, include women, which emphasizes the fact that all forms of woods vacation appeal to women.

The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad gives particular attention to making arrangements for woods vacation trips for women and will perfect in advance all preparations.

Here is an interesting story told by two women, members of the faculty of Wellesley College, who are, as will be seen, enthusiasts of the Maine woods.

THREE WOMEN IN THE WOODS

By CLARA E. SMITH and LENNIE P. COPELAND

Here they met with a cordial welcome from Mr. T. B. Snow, the genial host of the Winnegarnock House, who entered into their plans with zest, suggested routes, estimated expenses, introduced guides and before night the trip which had existed only as a vague picture of the imagination, began to assume the aspect of reality.

There was a delay of one day on account of inauspicious

A copy of "In the Maine Woods" fell into the hands of three women teachers, who became fascinated by its tales of canoe trips and camp life in the primeval forest. Many of these trips had been taken by women, but, so far as the records went, there were always men in the party. Could three women, unaccompanied by friends of the sterner sex, take guides and venture into the woods on their own initiative? This question our three friends decided to investigate, and in pursuance of the resolve, arrived at Northeast Carry on a bright morning in August.

weather, but on the second morning three canoes slipped down the west branch of the Penobscot from the carry, each containing a guide, a woman, and a goodly supply of camp equipage and provisions. Language is inadequate to describe the nine blissful days that intervened between this and the afternoon of return to the carry, when the only regret was, that the trip was ending instead of beginning. During this time over one hundred miles of lake and stream had been traversed by canoe, varied by two or three mile walks across the carries, amid the soothing influence of the forest, far from the noise, dirt and confusion of so-called civilized life. The route covered twenty-three miles of the West Branch, Chesuncook Lake, Caucomgomoc Stream and Lake, Round Pond, Allagash Lake, where the longest stay was made, Allagash Stream, Chamberlain Lake, Mud Stream and Pond, Umbazooksus Lake, and Stream, back to Chesuncook and the West Branch. Sometimes the canoes floated peacefully on the mirror-like surface of a lake, and sometimes penetrated narrow, rushing streams, where it was hard for a novice to believe that a canoe could pass; but the skill of the guides was equal to every emergency, and all the varied experiences were equally enjoyable to the passengers. Much game was seen, the deer coming right into the camps, and many traces of beaver work were in evidence on the banks of the streams. The speckled trout leaped up to meet the flies thrown by the guides, and the call of the loons added to the atmosphere of solitude.

The pure ozone of the woods created famous appetites, and never were appetites ministered to more royally. The hot biscuit, Johnny cake, flapjacks and fried trout prepared by the guides could not be surpassed by the most accomplished chef. Many luxuries and conveniences, undreamed of by those unfamiliar with the resources of the woods, contributed to the pleasure of the travelers. The evenings about the campfire, enlivened by tales of hunting and woodcraft related by the guides, form one of the pleasant memories of the trip. The nights were spent in tents, on beds of balsam boughs, and if they were less enjoyable than the days, the contrast only served to accentuate the bliss of the latter. Did it rain? Well, rather; but although forest travel is pleasanter in sunshine than in storm, it was a revelation to see how warm and dry and comfortable people could be in the woods during a pouring rain. To the three guides, Billy Doyle, Fred Smart and Fred Trombley, who were assiduous in doing everything possible for the comfort and convenience of their passengers, is due the success of the trip.

The foregoing is a typical story of a Maine woods canoe trip. There is no form of summer vacation more delightful than a cruise through the forest waterways, and the diverse attractions offered by the various voyages make it possible to have new enjoyments each season.

Mountain Climbing in Maine

Ready to Start for Katahdin's Summit

MT. KATAHDIN, rising to a height of 5273 feet and over-shadowing the great vacation country reached by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, is the outstanding scenic feature of the State of Maine, which is so rich in natural beauties and marvels. Katahdin is no new discovery for nearly a century ago it attracted visitors who made the trip to the mountain's base by canoes with Indians as guides. The growing interest in tramping and mountain climbing, as shown by the recent ascent of the Appalachian Mountain Club, is giving Katahdin new popularity. As in the case of other woods recreations—canoeing, fishing, hunting and camping—climbing Katahdin is coming to be a favorite diversion with the women who come to the Maine woods for their vacations. The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad is glad to answer inquiries regarding the Mt. Katahdin trip and to give advice regarding plans for parties.

On the Abol Trail Up Mt. Katahdin

There are three trails up Katahdin, the Abol Trail, leading from Abol Stream, one of the tributaries of the Penobscot's West Branch; Hunt's Trail, which strikes out from Hunt's Camps on Kidney Pond, and the Lunksoos Trail, reached by the way of Stacyville. Each trail offers attractions peculiar to itself, and so varied are Katahdin's possessions that not until all three trails are gone over can the boast be made that you know the mountain.

Katahdin is Maine's principal attraction for the mountaineer but there are many other opportunities for mountain climbing in the country traversed by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. Katahdin Iron Works, reached by a branch line of the Bangor & Aroostook from Brownville, offers exceptional opportunities and an uncommon number of mountains. White Cap, a magnificent peak, is among the highest in Maine and naturally heads the list for the Katahdin Iron Works section. Then there is Chair-back, a popular ascent from the top of which a splendid panorama is visible: Columbus, across Big Houston Pond, Houston, Round, Saddleback, Big Spruce, Little Spruce, Elephant, Baker, Shanty and Greenwood Mountains.

To the west of the Katahdin Iron Works country is Onawa's famous peak, Boarstone, and at Greenville is Squaw Mountain and numerous lesser heights. On the opposite side of Moosehead Lake are Lily Bay, Spencer, No. 4 and other mountains in the vicinity of Kokad-jo which make possible mountain climbing in addition to the other attractions of this popular resort.

Twenty miles up Moosehead Lake from Greenville Junction is Mt. Kineo. This list is by no means complete, for in nearly every locality there are mountains which provide the finest sport such as is to be found nowhere in the east as in Maine.

MAINE has many reasons for boasting of nature's lavish endowments but there is no prouder possession among all the riches than Moosehead Lake which has evoked praise in prose and poetry from many distinguished devotees. Moosehead, it is maintained by many enthusiasts, is the largest body of fresh water wholly within the boundaries of the United States but regardless of figures to show extent of area, there surely is no more beautiful basin in this or other lands. Moosehead has many moods and in all them she manifests new glories and splendors. There are those who aver that it is in the verdant springtime, when the surrounding mountains are brilliantly green, that Moosehead is most beautiful. Others praise her for the majesty in which she shines in mid-summer while, again, there are many who prefer the splendid colorings of early autumn. One thing is certain — whatever the season, Moosehead is always regal and radiant and is never without the magic charm that brings to her shores year after year the enthusiasts who proclaim her queen of all vacation spots.

Moosehead Lake is reached by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad which touches its shores at Greenville Junction, 91 miles from Bangor. The junction is the meeting point of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad with the Canadian Pacific Railway. At Greenville Junction there is a good hotel, the Piscataquis Exchange, numerous outfitting stores and other establishments of interest to sportsmen and persons on vacations. A mile and a half from the village, on the shore of the lake, is the Squaw Mountain Inn, a popular resort, with many attractions for its guests. It can be reached by automobile, over a good road, or by motor boat.

The numerous steamers of the Coburn Steamboat Company afford first-class service on Moosehead Lake and it may be said at the outset that not until the full steamboat trip from Greenville Junction to the head of the lake, 40 miles away, is enjoyed, can one say that he has seen Moosehead. There are two routes for the steamboats. One runs straight up the lake to Northeast Carry and the other is to Lily Bay, for years an important Moosehead Lake station both with sportsmen and with the big companies that carry on lumbering operations on Moosehead's shores.

Leaving Greenville Junction, the first stop on the trip up the lake, is Capen's, the well-known resort on Deer Island which has long been one of the landmarks on Moosehead. Beside the hotel there are numerous outlying cabins for the guests, and the aspect from the lake is decidedly inviting.

After Capen's, the next stop of the Coburn steamboats is the renowned Mt. Kineo House, twenty miles from Greenville Junction. The world-known resort is on a peninsula which makes into the lake from the base of Mt. Kineo, a massive eminence of solid flint which seems to spring from the surface of the lake, so abruptly does it rise. Legend has it that the flint from Kineo was known to the Indians throughout this section of the land and that the redskins came by canoe from far-distant points in Canada to secure the flint for arrow-heads, hatchets and other primitive utensils of war and domestic use. From a rendezvous of the aborigines, Kineo has become perhaps the most famous of freshwater resorts on the continent. Beside the mammoth hotel, handsome cottages, the yacht club, the golf club, bridle paths, the expansive lawns and the numerous mountain trails contribute to the completeness of the resort.

Directly across the lake from Kineo is Rockwood, known also as Kineo Station, and here it is that the Maine Central Railroad touches Moosehead's shores. From Rockwood there is a splendid automobile road through the woods to Seboomook and thence on to Canada Falls, 27 miles distant, and to Russell Stream, 60 miles away. Both these points are widely known for their fine fishing and, in the game season, for the big deer which are found in these localities.

West Outlet, the location of the ever popular camps conducted by Gilbert & Cooms, is 24 miles from Greenville Junction and is a regular stopping place for the Coburn steamers. From Rockwood, the boats make for the head of the lake. At the end of one of Moosehead's arms is Northwest Carry, now generally known as Seboomook and at the terminus of the other arm is Northeast Carry. At the former is the Seboomook House which is picturesquely located and which commands a fine view to the mountains which line Moosehead's eastern shore. Northeast Carry is one of the best known points in all the Maine Woods because of the fact that it is the starting point for most of the parties making the canoe trips through the Allagash and Penobscot waters. Here is the Winnegarnock House with outlying cabins and the big outfitting store, all under the management of the genial T. B. Snow. "Tom" Snow they all call him after the first visit — and he is the friend of hundreds of visitors to the woods. But Northeast Carry is more than the starting point for the canoe parties. It has won a widespread fame because of its own attractions as a resort and the man or woman going there for a vacation is sure to have the best of times.

From Northeast Carry is reached Lobster Lake, one of the most beautiful of Maine woods waters, and there are numerous other places nearby which are favorite spots with fishermen and hunters.

And now for a trip to the Lily Bay section of Moosehead Lake. Lily Bay, as the name suggests, is one of Moosehead's inlets. Leaving Greenville Junction the steamboats continue up the lake for half a dozen miles and then leave the up-lake route for a turn into the bay. The first resort is Greenleaf's Camps on Sugar Island, eight miles from the junction, and another mile brings the steamboat to the camps of the Nighthawk Club. Lily Bay, the terminus, is 12 miles and here is the Lily Bay House, long known to fishermen, hunters and lumber operators.

From Lily Bay there is an exceptional automobile road, in fact it is a forest boulevard, leading to Kokad-jo, on First Roche Pond, and a resort of uncommon popularity. There is the commodious hotel, cabins and store under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Hamilton who cannot be excelled in the art of making a woods vacation a success. From Kokad-jo, the automobile road continues on through the woods for 23 miles to Ripogenus where is located the gigantic dam of the Great Northern Paper Company. This dam is one of the five greatest storage basins of the world and naturally attracts many sightseers. This road also leads to the foot of Chesuncook Lake the starting point for canoe parties. This automobile highway, through the forest, from Moosehead Lake to Ripogenus, gives an opportunity for an extraordinary motor trip and it is taken advantage of each season by many of the visitors to Kineo and other resorts in this locality.

The B. & A.'s Quick Service to the Restigouche Region

RESTIGOUCHE is a magic word in the fraternity of sportsmen. It suggests to them the great expanse of New Brunswick territory which is world-famed for its fishing and big game hunting. The Restigouche country includes the vast wilderness which begins at the St. John River, across from the northern boundaries of the State of Maine, and extends to Bay Chaleur. Earliest of all the localities to attain fame, was the country through which the Restigouche River runs and thus the name has been applied to the far stretch which is rich in finest fishing waters and in centers for moose, caribou and deer.

The Bangor & Aroostook Railroad is the natural and logical gateway to the Restigouche country. Formerly it meant a long and roundabout journey of several days to get to the Restigouche but now, the result of recent railroad connections, it is possible to leave New York or Boston and make a quick and comfortable trip to the New Brunswick points. Through the construction of the International Railroad bridge over the St. John River between

"Old Doc" Hyde of Kidney Pond

Buren's excellent hotel, the start can be made to the Restigouche points the following morning. Leaving St. Leonard's, the International Railway train begins a journey through pioneer country. Except for the occasional settlements which have sprung up as the result of lumbering operations, it is a wild and primitive region. The sportsmen can leave the train at almost any point and be at the gateway of a hunting country. Sporting camps like those in the Maine woods are not found in this country which has been opened by the railway so recently and it means making your camp wherever you choose.

Van Buren, a terminus of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, and St. Leonard's on the International Railway on the New Brunswick side, there is direct connection between the two railroads. The International Railway runs from St. Leonard's to Campbellton on Bay Chaleur, a distance of 112 miles. Leaving New York or Boston by a night train, the sportsman or vacation seeker, arrives at Van Buren the next forenoon. The remainder of the day can be passed pleasantly, perhaps a trip to the Grand Falls of the St. John being one of the diversions, and after a night at Hotel Hammond, Van

by C. M. Abbott

While the region takes its name from the Restigouche River, this is, by no means, the only fishing water. Equally renowned for fine catches are the Metapedia, the Cascapedia and the Upsalquitch, names all famed in the angling fraternity. Five Fingers Station, so-called because of its being the point where five streams come into confluence to empty into the Restigouche, is a setting out point for the celebrated Tobique River. The Tobique has enjoyed many years of popularity with Philadelphia, New York and Boston sportsmen by whom the Tobique Salmon Club was formed. The club is in charge of Mr. Thomas F. Allen and is a favorite resort.

There is much wild and rugged scenery along the line of the International Railway as is illustrated by the mention of Grog Brook, called a brook, although a good sized river, which is followed by the railway for eighteen miles, first on one side and then on the other. Along this stretch there are sixteen bridges and half a dozen detours made necessary by the cataracts, whirlpools and rapids. The entire route from St. Leonard's to Campbellton is interesting and the entrance to Campbellton by the railway is especially picturesque. Mountains and high hills, heavily wooded, form a gateway through which the railway passes, and rising over all is Sugar Loaf Mountain, an imposing and shapely eminence. Campbellton, at the head of Bay Chaleur, is finely located and the heights of Quebec, across the bay, make an imposing outlook.

There are pleasant trips from Campbellton to points on Bay Chaleur which are popular since the inauguration of the easy route via the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad by way of Van Buren.

From Grand Isle, 16 miles from Van Buren on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, may be reached the hunting grounds in the vicinity of Green River. This is a widely known Canadian game rendezvous. Back of Green River, to the east, is a section abounding in big game. Good "tote" roads run back from Green River to the headwaters of the Restigouche River.

One of the widely known attractions on the Canadian "side" is the famous Grand Falls of the St. John River. The falls are commonly known as "the Niagara of the East" and they are an impressive scenic wonder. The village of Grand Falls, New Brunswick, is 12 miles from Van Buren. There are good roads on both sides of the St. John River and it is a pleasant trip to drive or auto from Van Buren by one road and make the return trip on the opposite side of the river. The villages that occupy both banks of the St. John River are peopled by the French-speaking descendants of the Acadians, the pioneer settlers of this region.

The Famous Fishing Waters Reached by the B. & A.

Netting the Prize

FOR the fisherman there is no nearer approach to an earthly paradise than the great area of lakes and streams, teeming with unequalled prizes of salmon and trout, that is reached by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. Moosehead, Schoodic, Sebois, Sebec, Ambajejus, Debsconeag—these are names long renowned even among the veriest novices of the Waltonian brotherhood, but they are hardly a beginning of the long catalogue of waters in this country of myriad and magnificent basins. One glance at the map of the territory traversed by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad will be proof positive of the assertion that this is the land of the angler's delight. From almost any station on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad fishing waters may be reached, and so many are the waters and so variously located that it is possible to find sport in some locality from the going out of the ice in the spring to late September. Even in the heat of midsummer there is fly-fishing in not a few waters, notably in the Fish River lakes and tributaries.

The summer fishing is worthy of emphasis and is explained by the fact that many of the lakes are of considerable altitude and are filled by mountain springs which means cool water despite the thermometer's high temperature. The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad has detailed information regarding fishing waters, and you have but to give the time of your vacation to secure expert advice as to what locality is most favorable for the particular kind of fishing which you wish to enjoy.

The royal salmon is the premier prize of the Maine woods. There are also trout, togue, black bass, perch and pickerel. Maine waters are celebrated for their trout, and in many places white perch, pickerel and black bass offer sport hardly less exhilarating than the aristocratic salmon and trout. The fishing season opens with the departure of the ice from lakes and ponds. Fly-fishing continues at its best until summer weather and in not a few localities, even the warmest days find the waters sufficiently cool to make good sport. Waning summer finds fine fly fishing generally. As in the case of hunting, not a few sportsmen go on their fishing trips without guides, but for the newcomer a guide is a big help. His many accomplishments as a chef, to say nothing of the information which he will impart on fishermen's lore, make him a valuable adjunct to any party. Half the fun of a fishing trip is to partake of the freshly caught trout cooked over a camp-fire. The following pages contain a complete directory of stations on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, the fishing waters reached from these stations, and other information of value.

The foregoing list is compiled for the fresh-water fisherman. Those desiring salt-water fishing should go to Searsport, Kidders, or Stockton. These places, situated on Penobscot Bay, offer the vacationist fishing for cunners, tom-cods, and flounders, and the digging of clams. Deep-sea fishing parties may also be arranged at these places.

THE BANGOR & AROOSTOOK SERVICE TO POINTS ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

GREENVILLE JUNCTION is one of the points of connection between the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad and the Canadian Pacific Railway and is also the Moosehead Lake terminus of the Bangor & Aroostook. Running west from Greenville Junction, following the Canadian Pacific Railway to the Canadian boundary line, is a section of country which is held in high favor by fishermen, hunters and vacation-seekers. Indian Pond, Mackamp, Long Pond, Parlin Pond, Moose River, Attean Heald Pond, Jackman and Holeb, are some of the names conspicuous on the map between Greenville Junction and the boundary and they are all familiar to devotees of the Maine woods.

The comfortable way to reach these important points in this stretch of territory is to take the Boston and Greenville sleeping car which leaves Boston every night except Saturday, from May to November, and arrives at Greenville Junction the following forenoon where good connections are made with the Canadian Pacific Railway. For the return trip equally good connections are made at Greenville Junction for the sleeping car from there to Boston. Particulars regarding this superior service to all these places in the Moosehead Lake region may be found in the current folders and time-tables.

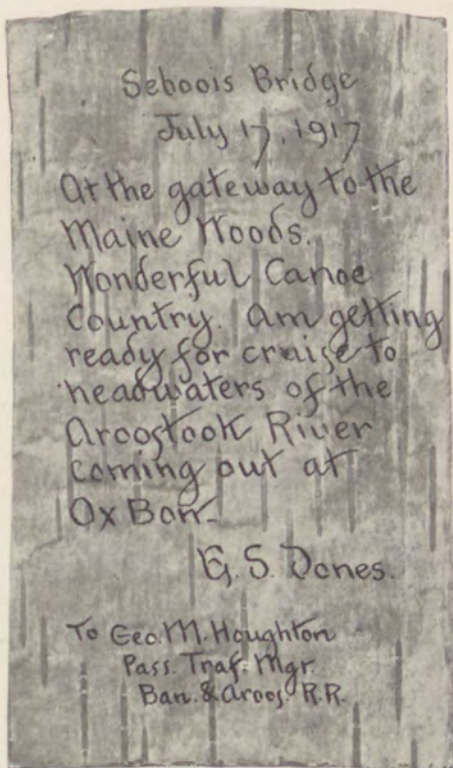

A list of fishing waters and sporting camps in this territory between Greenville Junction and Holeb will be found in the foregoing pages under Greenville.

Canoe Trips Thru Maine Woods Waters

THE FOUR BIG CANOE TRIPS

- The Allagash Trip, 203 miles
- The West Branch Trip, 80 miles
- The East Branch Trip, 118 miles
- The St. John River Trip, 231 miles

THE canoe trips in the country reached by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad are the most famous of their kind. Beside the four big trips in the above table, there are many shorter cruises to be made in proportionately briefer time. All the trips in this great vacation country, whether long or short, are through a forest wonderland, teeming with scenic wonders and beauties and ever unfolding new charms and varied delights. There's no form of woods vacation more replete with pleasure and more complete in the satisfaction of getting fullest returns than a canoe trip through the myriad waters of the Maine woods. A canoe trip offers the alluring combination of canoeing through unsurpassed rivers and lakes, camping out in the heart of the forest depths, fishing in waters that are a joy to all anglers, and in the late autumn the opportunity for hunting. All in all canoeing may be regarded as the supreme form of an outing in the woods.

Canoe trips have long been popular with fishermen, hunters and the men for whom a vacation in the woods is the annual red-letter occasion. Recent years has witnessed the increasing popularity of these trips for women, and during the vacation season many parties of women, business and professional women and teachers and their students make the canoe trips through the Allagash, West Branch and other waters.

There is still enough "roughing it" in a canoe trip to make them as fascinating as in the pioneer days, but the system has been developed so finely in the Maine woods, that all the details of a trip, the matter of supplies, camping outfit, canoes and guides can be arranged in advance so that everything is in readiness for starting out on a day decided upon.

The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad at Bangor makes a specialty of arrangements for canoe trips. With the information in hand as to the size of the party and the length of time to be given to the trip, various outlines of canoe trips will be supplied, together with carefully approximated estimates about expenses and other matters.

In the following pages will be found information in detail of the more important trips in the country served by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad.

THE ALLAGASH CANOE TRIP

Starting point, Northeast Carry, Moosehead Lake.

Terminus, Fort Kent on the St. John River.

Distance, 203 miles.

Time, from eight days to four weeks.

Canoeing in Maine Woods' Waters Is a Favorite Recreation With Many Women

THE canoe trip down the Allagash River is admittedly the most famous canoe trip in America. It begins on the Penobscot River's west branch, at Northeast Carry, and the terminus is the town of Fort Kent, on the St. John River, on the boundary line between Maine and New Brunswick. The trip is through forest waterways which flow through a country, resplendent on all sides with splendid scenery, and the territory abounds in opportunities for fishing and hunting. Northeast Carry, the starting point of the Allagash trip, is reached from Moosehead Lake. The first twenty miles, after the launching of canoes at the carry, are down the picturesque west branch of the Penobscot River. The "Half-way House," ten miles from Northeast Carry, is a favorite camping spot if the start is made in the afternoon. In the second ten-mile course, Moosehorn, Ragmuff, and Pine Streams are passed and then Chesuncook Lake, a fine expanse of water, is reached.

At the head of Chesuncook, Umbazooksus Stream is entered and nine miles down the stream brings the canoe into Umbazooksus Lake. It is a paddle of a mile over the lake to a carry of a couple of miles. At the carry, Tom Henderson's team transports the canoes overland. At the end of the carry the canoe goes into Mud Pond, and then there is a mile stretch down the outlet to Chamberlain Lake. It is a paddle of six miles to the head of

Supper for Two on Rocky Pond

Chamberlain Lake. There is a short carry around the dam. Then the canoe goes into the stream for a short run to Eagle Lake. It is a ten-mile paddle over Eagle Lake, after which the canoe enters the thoroughfare of two miles connecting Eagle and Churchill Lakes. Churchill Lake is five miles long. At its foot is Chase Carry, about a mile in length.

At the end of the carry the canoe goes into the Allagash River for a run of ten miles to Umbaskis Lake. Five miles over the lake and a thoroughfare leads into Long Lake, which means another five-mile stretch to the Allagash River again for a straight course of ten miles. The next break in the trip is Round Pond, and it is three miles over the pond to another entry into the Allagash for a fifteen-mile dash to Allagash Falls. At the falls, the canoe is taken out for a short carry and then it goes into the river below the falls. It is now smooth going to St. Francis, the point of confluence of the Allagash and St. John Rivers. St. Francis is the actual terminus of the Allagash trip but it is generally continued down the St. John River to Fort Kent. If the trip ends at St. Francis, the Bangor & Aroostook train may be taken to Fort Kent and thence to Bangor or to other points. There is also railroad connection between Fort Kent and Van Buren and the trip is interesting as it skirts the border line and follows closely the banks of the St. John River.

Poling Sam Cole Pitch, Moose River

There are interesting towns on both sides of the river, inhabited largely by French speaking people who are descendants of the early Acadian settlers. From Van Buren it is a pleasant trip of a dozen miles to the Grand Falls of the St. John River, well named "the Niagara of the East."

The custom, in making a canoe trip down the Allagash, is to take tent, provisions, cooking utensils and other necessities and then go into camp wherever night or the inclination to get ashore overtakes the canoeist. There are numerous good camping places with clear springs for drinking water, and surroundings that are alluring. There are various camps along the Allagash trip where provisions may be secured if the supply is running low and where, if desired, meals and lodging may be had. These camps are:

JOE SMITH's, the Half Way House, about ten miles from Northeast Carry.

ANSEL B. SMITH's, at the head of Chesuncook Lake.

THE LINCOLN PULPWOOD Co's CAMP at the Chamberlain Farm on Chamberlain Lake.

W. H. CUNLIFFE & SONS' CAMP on Umsaskis Lake.

J. T. MICHAUD's FARM about two miles before reaching Allagash Falls.

THOMAS GARDNER's CAMP, at the junction of the Allagash and St. John Rivers.

THE ALLAGASH LAKE TRIP

One of the pleasant "side" trips which may be taken in connection with the Allagash cruise, and one that well repays the extra time expended, is that which takes the canoeist through Caucomgomoc and Allagash Lakes. At the head of Chesuncook Lake, instead of continuing up Umbazooksus stream, the canoe is headed in a northwesterly course into Caucomgomoc Lake, thence through the dead-water for four miles into Round Pond.

Between Round Pond and Allagash Lake there is a carry of three miles. At the carry, Tom Henderson's teams will transport the canoes overland. After the carry there is a paddle of four and a half miles over Allagash Lake. From the lake there is a run of seven miles by way of Allagash Stream to Chamberlain Lake.

The Allagash Lake trip is frequently taken for a short excursion when, as shown by the accompanying table the route is reversed from the course taken for the Allagash trip.

THE WEST BRANCH CANOE TRIP

Starting point, Northeast Carry, Moosehead Lake.

Terminus, Norcross, at the foot of North Twin Lake.

Distance, 80 miles.

Time, from four to seven days.

THERE are numerous reasons why the canoe trip down the west branch of the Penobscot River is one of the most popular in the unparalleled program offered by the country through which the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad passes. First of all is the comparatively short time in which it can be made, a consideration forced upon many vacationists; then there is the strong attraction of some of the finest scenery of the Maine woods, the good fishing waters en route or easily reached from the main course and the pleasant camping places.

The start for the West Branch trip is made at Northeast Carry, reached from Moosehead Lake. The canoe goes into the West Branch waters at the carry and it is a picturesque course down the West Branch for twenty miles to Chesuncook Lake. Midway on the West Branch, between Northeast Carry and the entrance to Chesuncook, is the Half Way House which is a favorite camping place, particularly if the start is made from Northeast Carry in the afternoon. When Chesuncook Lake is reached it is up to the canoeist to decide whether the distance of eighteen miles down the lake will be paddled or whether advantage will be taken of the steamboat transportation. Chesuncook and Ripogenus Lake are now one. At the big dam of the Great Northern Paper Co., at the foot of Ripogenus Lake, there is a carry and there are teams to take the canoes and dunnage. At the end of the carry the canoe is put into West Branch again at a point known as the Big Eddy. Upper Umbajackamegus Falls are encountered shortly and the canoe goes through this quick water, but the "lower" falls make necessary a carry of half a mile. There is now a succession of swift pitches, appropriately called the Horse Race, and about two and a half miles in extent.

Under favorable conditions the canoes generally go through the Horse Race with passengers aboard, but occasionally the water is sufficiently turbulent to make the passengers choose the path which runs along the bank while the guide negotiates the current. At the end of the Horse Race the canoe goes through Sourdna-hunk dead-water to the dam at the foot of Sourdna-hunk Stream, where there is a small carry. Four miles down the West Branch are Abol Falls which makes necessary another short carry. After the canoe goes into the water again, there is a straight course down the river to Pockwockamus Falls.

At this point the canoe comes out for a carry to Pockwockamus dead-water and then it is clear traveling to Debsconeag Falls, where the West Branch takes a drop thirty or so feet and these falls make necessary still another short carry. At Passamagomac Falls there is the last carry of the trip and then there is a clear stretch into Ambajejus Lake. At the head of Ambajejus, steamboats may be boarded for the trip down Ambajejus Lake to Pemadumcook Lake, thence to North Twin Lake to Norcross, the terminus of the West Branch canoe trip. At Norcross there is a hotel where clothes may be changed and preparations made for the trip city-wards by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad.

As has been said, the West Branch canoe trip is over a route abounding in some of the finest scenery in Maine. There are many opportunities for side-trips for fishing, hunting and camping out along the West Branch cruise. Some of the neighboring waters are Caribou, Cuxabaxis, Caucomgomoc Lakes, the Hurd Ponds, Rainbow Lake, First, Second and Third Debsconeag Lakes. From Third Debsconeag Lake there is a passage to the head of Pemadumcook and from Pemadumcook can be reached Jo Mary Stream to Jo Mary Lake. The Jo Mary waters have long been renowned in hunting and fishing circles. Another favorite fishing water is Millnocket Lake which may be reached from Ambajejus Lake. Two streams which have a good name among fishermen are Aboljackamegus and Aboljackamegassic Streams which flow into the West Branch in the vicinity of Abol Falls.

From Abol there is a fine trail to Mt. Katahdin which is much used by mountain-climbers; indeed, approaching Mt. Katahdin by the way of the West Branch, whether the start is made at Northeast Carry or at Ripogenus, reached by the "short-cut" by way of Lily Bay and Kokad-jo, adds twofold to the delights of a Katahdin trip.

Two popular short canoe trips from Northeast Carry are the

Pine Pond and Lobster Lake trips. The Pine Pond trip leads down the West Branch from Northeast Carry for 17 miles, when a turn to the east is made up Pine Stream for eight miles into Pine Pond. This is a picturesque excursion and offers opportunity for good fishing. Lobster Lake is considered to be one of the most beautiful in the Maine woods. It is easily reached from Northeast Carry. Four miles down the West Branch from Northeast Carry brings the canoe to Lobster Stream and then it is four miles up the stream, an uncommonly beautiful wood's waterway, to Lobster Lake, one of the most charming of Maine woods basins.

THE EAST BRANCH CANOE TRIP

Starting point, Northeast Carry, Moosehead Lake.
Terminus, Grindstone on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad.
Distance, 120 miles.
Time, from seven to ten days.

THE East Branch trip is another cruise through Penobscot River waters. It begins at Northeast Carry when the canoe goes into the waters of the Penobscot's west branch. The course is twenty miles down the West Branch to Chesuncook Lake. Instead of turning south down Chesuncook, as in the case of the West Branch trip, the canoe is headed north and leaves Chesuncook by Ambazooksus Stream for a run of nine miles to Umbazooksus Lake. From the lake the route leads to Mud Pond Carry and thence into Mud Pond, which is the first dip into the waters of the East Branch. It is three miles over Mud Pond to Chamberlain Lake and a paddle of five miles over Chamberlain brings the canoe to the thoroughfare leading to Telosmis.

In Camp on Caucomgomoc Horse Race

After Telosmis is traversed, comes Telos Lake. Here, camp is generally made because of the favorable surroundings and often a side trip is taken into Sourdnahunk Lake. A canal connects Telos with Webster Lake and if there is a good pitch of water this will afford a passage to the canoe. From Webster Lake to Grand Falls the water is sufficiently rough to make necessary taking out the canoe for a mile overland by tote team. When the canoe is into the water again there is good going to Second Lake, four miles long, and for another four-mile stretch over Grand Lake.

From Grand Lake there is a five-mile run of rough water which means vigorous paddling to Stairs Falls, but after the falls are passed, there is a smooth run to Haskell Rock Pitch where there is another carry. The Grand Falls of the East Branch are composed of the series of pitches which are encountered in the next four miles. Pond Pitch comes first, then Grand Pitch, the third is the Hulling Machine Pitch and last is Bowlin Falls. With favorable conditions as to wind and water, the canoe is navigable through the swift water between the pitches, but each of the pitches except Bowlin means a carry. At certain seasons, and under extraordinary conditions, it may be necessary to carry around Bowlin, but as a rule it can be gone through without a mishap.

After Bowlin is passed there is a stretch of good canoeing for a distance of fifteen miles, which brings the canoe to the point of junction of the Wissataquoik and the East Branch. The Wissataquoik offers a pleasant side trip up its sixteen miles of length, and the Sebois, which comes into the East Branch just above the Wissataquoik's place of confluence, flows through a renowned hunting country.

From the mouth of the Wissataquoik it is only a dozen miles to Grindstone. In covering this stretch there are the Whetstone, Burntland and Grindstone Falls to be encountered. Under favorable conditions the canoe can get through without a carry, but unless the pitch of water is exceptional, it is more than likely that Whetstone will be unnavigable even if the other two are.

The East Branch trip is particularly popular with fishermen as the East Branch waters are famous for the prizes they yield.

THE ST. JOHN RIVER CANOE TRIP

By PROF. W. K. MOOREHEAD, Andover, Mass.

Starting point, Northwest Carry.

Terminus, Grand Falls, N. B.

Distance, about 231 miles.

Time, three weeks to five weeks.

THIS trip can be shortened by stopping at Fort Kent, but we advise all parties to go on to Grand Falls and see the gorge and the Great Falls of the St. John. It is the longest really fine canoe trip in the United States. Not so famous as the Allagash, because it is more difficult, but it is through a wilder country, and there are but three or four bad rapids, and only one which may be called dangerous for ordinary canoe men, but not so dangerous if one is careful. At the Big Black Rapids one is usually able to secure a French-Canadian to ride in the forward canoe to indicate the proper channels.

I do not know that the distance has been measured, therefore some of my estimates may not be correct. From Northwest Carry to the West Branch is two miles — good road. Proceed up the West Branch to Pittston Farms (mostly dead-water) where is the supply camp of the Great Northern Paper Company. Here the stream forks, and you proceed by the north branch of the West Branch about twenty miles to Doyle Brook. There, canoes can be poled part of the way, but must be dragged the rest of the distance.

From Doyle Brook to the Bog Lake Dam is at least fifteen and possibly twenty miles. This is called Abaconetic Bog. It is five miles from this bog through a sluggish winding stream to the head of the river where used to live two French-Canadians in a small cabin. These men maintain the carry. Canoes have to be dragged the last two miles. From this cabin to St. John Pond is five or six miles over hills. From St. John Pond, it is twenty miles to Baker Lake. The stream is small. It is necessary to drag the canoes part of the way. At Baker Lake there is an old lumber camp, but it is not in very good condition. After leaving Baker

Lake it is about twenty miles to Morrison Depot Camp where campers can be put up if desired.

Here the river is a little larger and swifter. About ten miles from Morrison's Camp the southwest branch of the St. John comes in. This is a very good game country and there are also many trout. There are no houses or buildings until one reaches Seven Islands. It must be forty miles from the forks of the river to the mouth of the Southwest Branch. The water is swift and can be run in a day, but I advise spending three days as there is much to see. Through this region one can find beaver dams by ascending side streams.

From Seven Islands to the mouth of the Big Black River the distance must be eighteen or twenty miles and there are bad rapids above the mouth of the Big Black River. I advise stopping several days at the mouth of the Big Black River as there one finds good fishing and hunting. Here the river is larger and swift. From the mouth of the Big Black River to the mouth of the Allagash, must be nearly forty miles. There are two or three houses on a high bank to the left, and I would advise that one of the French-Canadians who live there be secured to guide the party through the channels. At certain stages of water different courses are taken, hence you need some one who knows the channels. It would be easy to upset canoes in these waters and therefore, if canoeists are not experts, they must proceed with caution. The old story of the "Charles River Canoeist," must be borne in mind by new voyagers on the St. John.

From the mouth of the Allagash on down to St. Francis (about fifteen miles) there are houses here and there and accommodation can be secured by those who do not care to set up tents. My advice to canoeists would be to go slowly through and not hurry, and spend three weeks in journeying from Northwest Carry to St. Francis, which must be, counting all the turns in the river, distant at least two hundred and twenty-five miles from the St. John Pond. From St. Francis on to the Grand Falls, the river is large and beautiful and there are houses and settlements along the banks. The distance to be traveled after reaching St. Francis is optional. The canoeist can stop at towns or farms every few miles or he can make longer runs and reach Grand Falls in a week.

Side trips up the Tobique, the St. Francis and the Big Black are recommended. The upper river is more charming than the lower. It is an absolute forest, free from the haunts and habitations of man — is that upper St. John.

CANOEING BY WAY OF KOKAD-JO

ANOTHER new canoe route has been opened up by the completion of the splendid automobile highway from Lily Bay on Moosehead Lake, past Kokad-jo and the Grant Farm, the Great Northern Paper Company's important supply station, on through the wilderness to the foot of Chesuncook Lake and to the site of the big dam recently finished at the foot of Ripogenus Lake, making possible a new starting point for canoeing parties. There are available public automobiles to convey parties, canoes and supplies from Lily Bay to either Chesuncook or Ripogenus. There is also the "jitney" service operated by the Great Northern Paper Company which gives superior accommodations for reaching these points.

By consulting the map of the canoe routes it will be seen that it is possible to save time and travel by putting the canoes into the West Branch below Ripogenus Dam, but, of course, there is the consequent loss of the trip from Northeast Carry down the West Branch and through Chesuncook.

For parties making the Allagash trip, guides can be met at Lily Bay and canoes and outfits can be transported by automobile to Chesuncook Dam, at the foot of Chesuncook Lake, and the canoes put into Chesuncook and headed northerly over the lake to Umbazooksus Stream and thence over the regular Allagash route. If steamboat transportation over Chesuncook Lake is desired, parties can arrange to have steamboat in waiting at Chesuncook Dam.

Kokad-jo is an especially popular woods resort with the many visitors who come there yearly. Fishing waters of unusual fame are close by and this region has long been noted as a hunting country. There are many attractions for those seeking "just a vacation."

NORTH AROOSTOOK CANOE TRIPS

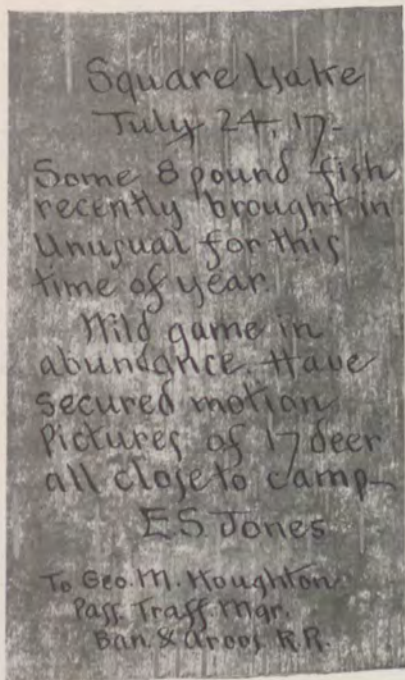

THE growing importance of the north Aroostook country with sportsmen and women and men vacationists has brought new fame to the canoe trip through the Fish River waters. It is through a section picturesque and primitive, and the bountiful supply of fish and game have helped to add to its popularity. From Van Buren it is a twelve-mile drive to Long Lake, a magnificent sheet of water, and here the canoe is put into the water. A paddle of eight miles brings you to the thoroughfare leading to Mud Lake, less than a mile away. From Mud Lake, two miles long, there is a thoroughfare of a mile, ending at Cross Lake.

It is four miles over Cross Lake and there is another thoroughfare into Square Lake. Four miles on Square Lake and four miles more in a thoroughfare and Eagle Lake is entered. One of the advantages of this trip is that there are numerous camps and farms where fresh provisions can be obtained and excellent fishing, not only on the lakes but in the numerous brooks flowing from various directions. Eagle Lake Station is six miles down the lake but probably the canoeist will prefer to keep on rather than to board the train there. Three miles over the lake and the canoe

THE COST OF A CANOE TRIP

“WHAT’S the cost of a canoe trip?” is a question often-times asked. Like most vacations the expenses vary. Some people for instance, may require considerably more in provisions than others and, naturally, the expense depends upon the length of the trip. According to authorities on canoe-trip outfits, the average expense for the Allagash trip for one sportsman and a guide for a two weeks’ outing is about $125.00. The West Branch trip can be made for $75. These figures include the pay enters Fish River, which gives a trip of eighteen miles to Fort Kent. There are only two short carries in the entire trip down the river. If you wish to tarry still longer before leaving Eagle Lake, there is a pleasant side trip into St. Froid and Portage Lakes, both widely known for their fine fishing.

The excursion to these two lakes can end at Portage if so desired, where the train can be taken.

Canoeing in the waters gives an opportunity for trying your luck at fishing in localities famous for fine catches.

for the guide, the expense of getting canoe and dunnage over the carries, and provisions.

When plans are made for a canoe trip one thing is certain, and that is the results in physical benefits alone will far outweigh the cost of the excursion. There's nothing like a canoe trip to rejuvenate the city worker as hundreds of canoe devotees will gladly testify.

The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad will be glad to answer questions regarding canoe trips, in fact, if desired, all arrangements will be made in advance so that everything will be in readiness for the start from the Northeast Carry on an appointed day.

A CANOEIST'S OWN STORY

By E. S. JONES, Boston.

IF I were asked to name the most enjoyable trip in the Maine woods, I should be sadly puzzled for a reply — there are so many interesting canoe trips that one can hardly be classed better than another. Of course, the Allagash trip would appeal to some on account of its length and the variety of its scenery; others might prefer the east and west branches of the Penobscot, and the West Branch trip offers such wonderful views of Mt. Katahdin. I should be inclined to recommend that the camps spread out along this trip are some of the best in Maine, and if you were fortunate enough to reach Katahdin View Camps at sunset, or in cloudy weather when the mountain is covered with mist, and rise the following morning and have the summit clear, the view will make a profound impression on you and one you will hardly forget. There is a fascination about these silent rivers that one cannot describe; it must be felt. As you slip along with the swift current each turn has its own particular view. The carries are just enough and long enough to break the monotony and serve as an excuse to get out and stretch your legs.

Then there is the Fish River Region in Northern Aroostook. This is highly recommended for its variety of scenery over 60 miles of water and with but two or three carries, and those not more than one-eighth of a mile. It will take you through some of the most famous fishing waters in the state. Starting at Portage Lake you paddle through the St. Froid Lakes into Eagle Lake and so on into the Fish River ending at Fort Kent. This latter part of the journey is between high bluffs and there is just enough of swift water to make it most enjoyable. At Eagle Lake you may prolong your trip by crossing Eagle Lake through the thoroughfare to Square Lake and tarry with Fraser at his camps at the "Inlet" and if you are here during the season he will take you where the big fish are. After you have tried all these trips let me suggest one that I took last August to the headwaters of the Aroostook River. You may make it two ways, going in at Patten or at Oxbow. If the latter you will repeat your river trip going up against the current which takes two days and returning the same way in one day.

My trip began at Patten with an auto drive to Shinn Pond over a fine road and transferring to a stage for the final ride of twelve miles to Luther Hall's camps at Sebois Bridge. You will never forget this last ride as long as you live, that is if you do ride. It is far better to both walk and ride, but this is not a criticism on the road. You are getting into the wilds and no matter how you get there, just get in and away from the towns and cities where you may throw off all restraint and anxiety, put on your old clothes and rough it.

At Hall's camps you will find one of the best appointed camps in this section, and it enjoys the distinction of shipping out some of the largest prizes of deer in the state. With my guides and two canoes I left Hall's and started up the Sebois River. The carries were well arranged, for at each there were canoes, in fact these men have boats distributed all through the woods. Entering White Horse Lake we crossed to the carry and entered Snow Shoe Stream and after a short trail came to the lumber camp at Snow Shoe Dam. Here we remained over night and here we witnessed one of the most impressive sunsets I have ever seen. On the following morning we crossed

A Prize Like This Is No Burden

Snow Shoe and carry into Sautelle Brook where are located some of Hall's outlying sporting camps.

The trip down the brook was interesting for low water forced us to wade some of the way. When we could float, the journey was made in complete silence and on this day we came upon two deer and floated near enough to enable us to photograph them. After lunch at Sautelle Pond we left the canoes and started on the trail through the forest. This was the hardest carry and the longest, but the trail finally brings you to one of the loveliest lakes in the state and to a most hospitable camp. On the west side is Billy Soule's; and directly opposite one of Will Libby's camps. We remained on Millimegassett for several days and here I released my guides, taking new ones for the remainder of the trip.

A very interesting side trip can be made by going down Millimegassett Stream to the junction with the Millnocket and up the latter to Millnocket Lake, the headwaters of the Aroostook River. You will have all the thrills you care for, a swift current and in one place some white water around which your guide will probably request you to walk.

Then we came to the dam and put into the lake. Will Libby has his home camp on an island about two miles above the dam, and here you will find a hearty welcome with plenty to eat and a good bed.

The trip down the Aroostook River will live in your memory forever. This great stream flowing on through the forest, in some places not more than one hundred feet wide, a current that will almost take you along without use of the paddle, places where it is necessary to pole, and the never-to-be-forgotten "Devils' Elbow" where the river makes a complete turn and flows backward in very swift water, the deer that you will see along the bank, for on this trip we counted twelve—all of this makes this trip one of the finest in all the state.

And then after this magnificent sail of almost forty miles you land at Oxbow where Will Libby will meet you, take you to his house where you may luxuriate in a hot bath and a change of clothes, and go on out to civilization.

Summer Schools for Boys and Girls in the Woods

THE popularity of the numerous school-camps for girls and boys in the Maine woods is not surprising, for the same attractions that make the woods the ideal vacation land in the minds of many enthusiasts play an important part in the season's programs in these schools. To be sure a certain amount of attention is paid to lessons from books — and where can “plugging” be done under pleasanter surroundings — but it's the other side of the curriculum that makes the summer school in the woods a favorite. Canoeing, swimming, tramping, camping, fishing and mountain-climbing, here is a list that will strike joy in the heart of every out-door-loving girl or boy.

It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the benefits to health after a summer in the woods. It is obvious that no better preparation can be provided for the school or college year than the active and vigorous program of the summer school-camps. Not only is the knowledge of woodcraft of value in itself, but with expertness in handling a canoe, for instance, comes new self reliance and resourcefulness that will give manifestation many times. Youth is the time for the acquirement of lessons in all the practical things taught in the school-camps and the knowledge gained will be of inestimable worth throughout a lifetime.

Some of the earliest schools in the Maine woods were located on Moosehead Lake which continues to be a popular location. Now, however, the school-camps are scattered far and wide, and their popularity with students and parents is constantly on the increase.

The schools for boys and girls are not the only "seats of learning" in the woods. There are camps for engineering classes in Maine during the summer, and for several seasons there has been a summer school for forestry under the direction of Prof. John M. Briscoe of the University of Maine. The advantages of these schools for future foresters and engineers are apparent. An enthusiastic devotee of the Maine woods is the distinguished archeologist, Prof. Warren K. Moorehead of Andover, who has made many explorations in Maine for relics of the aboriginal settlers. A couple of summers ago, Professor Moorehead, accompanied by a party of students, made a trip of exploration down the St. John River. It is no uncommon thing to see frequent canoe parties of college students with tutors, and school girls with teachers and guides embark for cruises down the Allagash or Penobscot waters.

Hunting in the Maine Woods

THE Bangor and Aroostook Railroad, by reason of its service to the Maine woods and to the great Restigouche country, across from the Maine border, in Canada, is the most important of all the country's systems in the eyes of the hunters. Rightly is this territory, extending through the northern portion of Maine and into New Brunswick, recognized as the finest hunting region on the continent. The Maine deer have long been famous for their size and while there is at present a close time on moose in Maine, the Restigouche country holds out allurements of moose and caribou. Indeed, between Maine and New Brunswick there is opportunity for big game shooting with rewards of moose, caribou, deer, bear, while the gunner can find unequaled chance for partridge, duck and other winged game. The accessibility of the game centers reached by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad is an important feature which is fully appreciated by the hundreds of sportsmen who make regular annual visits. Greenville, Katahdin Iron Works, Norcross, Patten, Ashland and Portage are only a few of the points long popular with sportsmen, and now the comparatively newer centers, more recently opened by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, are coming into prominence. This is especially true of the stations along the Fort Kent Division of the railroad, in the great area watered by the Fish River and its chain of lakes.

travels by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, reaches practically all points in the Maine woods, before noon the next day. In the case of going to the Restigouche, the sportsman arrives at Van Buren in time for mid-day dinner. The remainder of the day and night will be enjoyed at the Hotel Hammond, an exceptional hotel for a town of Van Buren's size, and a start may be made for the Restigouche or other points in New Brunswick in good season the following morning by the International Railway.

Maine deer have always been celebrated because of their size and Maine deer heads are the finest of trophies. Next to deer, come the big black bears which are multiplying rapidly since the removal of the bounty.

With the connection now maintained between the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad and the International Railway in New Brunswick, it is possible for sportsmen in Philadelphia, New York and Boston to make a comfortable journey to Restigouche points instead of the long and tedious round-about trip that was necessary before the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad's service to the Restigouche was established. There is no gainsaying the fact that the Restigouche region provides the best moose hunting to be had to-day. Leaving on a night train from New York or Boston, the sportsman who

The Maine Woods' Hold Allurements

They frequently exceed five hundred pounds in weight and notwithstanding their apparent clumsiness, they are crafty and quick to elude pursuers, so that to bring one down indicates skill as a woodsman. Foxes, red, gray and black, are frequently shot, and bobcat and lynx are not uncommon. Along the shores of streams, mink, otter and fisher are frequently found. The bird hunter will find partridges in great plentitude. Other feathered game include woodcock, snipe, black ducks, mallards, shell drakes and wild geese.

In the summer vacation season, deer are commonly seen in streams and coves, some canoeists having counted them by dozens during extended cruises. With the departure of summer and the approach of cooler weather, the deer take to traveling. Before long the leaves begin to fall, the autumnal dryness prevails and the woods become more or less "noisy." The deer, alert for every sound, takes flight at the rustling of twigs or perhaps the crack of the dry leaves and is off in a twinkling. Later, the October rains wet the leaves and underbrush and conditions are materially changed and the coming of the early snow means even greater advantage for the huntsman. Then it is easier to know the presence of game and to follow their tracks. Some bucks weigh as high as three hundred pounds.

Game shipment figures from various stations on the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad show that the territory for which the places are gateways have game in abundance. As a matter of fairness it should be understood that some stations are shipping points for a wide range of game land, while others send down deer and moose shot in the immediate vicinity. For instance, Norcross receives and ships game for the entire lower Penobscot West Branch country and Greenville for points in all directions, covering an area of two thousand square miles. The game from the East Branch country comes out at Grindstone, while Stacyville is the shipping point for the region around Katahdin and from the East Branch territory; and so it is with other stations. Indeed, there are comparatively few stations that have not a game shipment record each season.

One Day's Catch at Fraser's Inlet Camps

THIS chapter is not intended for the old-timer. It is to be a few suggestions for those coming to the woods for their first trip. It is well to remember that one vacation, particularly if taken with a good guide or seasoned sportsman, will be more valuable for general information and for a more intimate knowledge of woods lore, than the reading of twenty books. First, for the newcomer to the woods, is a word regarding clothes to be worn on a woods trip. Don't adopt the fancy costumes seen in pictures and advertisements. For men, a heavy woolen suit, flannel shirts and underwear appropriate to the season make a serviceable outfit.

Nowadays women enjoy "roughing it" and each year sees more of them coming to the Maine woods. A sensible costume is a flannel shirtwaist with pockets, a soft felt hat, a corduroy or broadcloth skirt, also with a pocket or two. The best footwear for women are strong soled boots or moccasins with tops reaching about six inches above the ankles, sufficient to protect the ankles and keep the feet dry and still not impede walking.

For a summer vacation in the woods, a bathing suit, in case you wish to take a plunge in the vicinity of a camp, and a couple of bath towels should be included in your kit. The outfit should have a fairly large jack-knife with single-edged blade, and a small hatchet, suitable for wearing in your belt, is useful especially for cutting boughs for a bed or building a temporary shelter. Other handy articles include a drinking cup, a waterproof match safe and a pocket map of the country to which you are going. In the summer season, it is well to take along a lotion for guarding against black flies and mosquitoes which are found in some localities during the early summer.

You may choose to have a split bamboo, bethabara, greenhart or lancewood rod. A satisfactory rod, particularly if you are going to "rough it," is a nine-foot steel rod. For trolling, a No. 5, braided silk line, 200 yards or so, is as good as any, and have a multiplying reel to hold it. Fifty yards of good oiled silk line, on a small reel should be taken for fly fishing for use in streams.

The leader for fly fishing should be six feet of salmon gut for loops, and for bait fishing, a plain snelled hook or gut hook is satisfactory. Hooks in sizes six to twelve are to be preferred. When it comes to flies, it means to specify some that have been used with the most success and these include, Jock Scott, Silver Doctor,

This Deer Was Shot on The Shore of Square Lake — Photo by H. C. Bailey

Pharmachenee Belle, Brown Hackle, Montreal and Red Ibis. If you have had any experience you must know that trout, at times will take anything you offer and then, again, they will refuse to rise at all. If the fish won't rise although you know they are all around you, let your fly sink three or four feet. Still better, put a grasshopper on your hook or a worm, or even a piece of fat pork. Oftentimes, you will find that they will begin to get busy after enticement of this sort. It is unnecessary to explain the need of keeping quiet over or near a trout pool. Anchor on the side away from the fish when using the fly, but such striking when bait fishing, may lose your fish. For trout, or togue, a minnow and a large hook, snelled with a heavy gimp should be used. The old red and silver spoon with three hooks still works as well as anything for pickerel, while for black bass, often good fighters, and white perch, use your trout tackle. Always fish down stream when the water is swift, but it is best to fish pools from below. Don't make too long casts; don't jerk the fish but tire him out; don't be a hog; never catch so many fish so that some will be wasted. Put back all you get that don't reach from the butt of your rod to the top of your reel seat.

Two Youthful Anglers at Square Lake

The equipment for a hunting trip in the woods, just as in the case of fishing tackle, depends upon the sportsman. If you haven't convictions regarding guns and rifles look over the handsome catalogues of the different gunmakers, several of whom are advertisers in this book, and you will glean a lot of information.

The 30-50 and 38-35 seem to have as many users as any others, while for birds, a 12-gauge shotgun is recommended.

In regard to the cost of a woods vacation. Of course, expenses vary with the individual. The Vacation Bureau of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad can furnish pretty close estimates as to expenses for all localities and will be glad to do so. The rates, per day, at camps and woods resorts vary from $2.00 to $4.00, with special prices for parties and prolonged stays. The fee for guides varies from $3.50 to $4.50. In some instances camps are located on waters rather remote from railroad stations in which case there is a charge for motorboat, canoe, wagon, automobile or saddlehorse.

A few terse suggestions:

Familiarize yourself with the fish and game laws.

Take along a map of the section to which you are going.

Be careful in building fires. Don't leave your fire unless you are sure it is extinguished.

Don't throw away cigarettes, cigars or matches until you know they are dead. Forest fires endanger life and property.

Don't shoot at anything until you are sure what it is. Shooting at a "movement" in the underbrush may result in killing a human being.

Remember to unload your gun or rifle before entering your camp and don't carry a shell in the chamber when you are in a canoe or other conveyance.

Don't kill game for the sake of killing and don't catch more fish than you really want.

The Marvelous Story of Aroostook's Agricultural Wealth

AROOSTOOK has many possessions that have brought it celebrity, its fishing waters, its game expanses, its water-powers and other natural resources that point to a big industrial future—all these have played an important part in keeping Aroostook at the front. But important as these are, not one surpasses the prosaic potato as a fame getter. The potato has put Aroostook on the world map, indeed, it is no exaggeration to say that Aroostook, to-day, is one of the great potato-producing sections of the nation. What the potato has done for Aroostook and the farmers who have devoted themselves to its cultivation makes a story more engrossing than fiction. There are dozens of individual cases of men accruing wealth from the smallest beginnings after several successful crops and many of the thriving towns—towns with the aspect and hustle of cities—owe their existence to the Aroostook potato. New potato-growing sections are being opened up each year and the agricultural expansion of Aroostook is one of the most hopeful indications of the long desired rejuvenation of the east.

The Bangor & Aroostook Railroad has special facilities for furnishing information regarding Aroostook's resources and possibilities along the line of potato growing and general farming and inquiries addressed to the office of Mr. George M. Houghton, Bangor, will receive prompt attention.

The Aroostook potato varieties possess characteristics that make them first quality for either table or seed purposes. For domestic consumption hundreds of carloads are shipped to Boston, New York and other metropolitan markets each season and other trainloads are sold for seed purposes. The uncommon adaptability of the Aroostook potato is well illustrated by the fact that in Virginia, where the principal object is to obtain an early crop, the Aroostook tuber matures from a week to a fortnight earlier than other varieties. This adaptability makes the Aroostook potato a favorite for seed and each year witnesses a greater demand from growers all over the country.

It is hardly necessary to say that the Aroostook farmer is a practical business man. He recognizes the importance of modern methods and of scientific advance. He is always on the lookout for improvements. No small part of the agricultural success of Aroostook has been due to the continued co-operation of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad which has at all times been eager and ready to help the farmer in every way possible.

Aroostook has attracted newcomers from all points drawn by opportunities fully equal to those of the much exploited western sections. An advantage not possessed by these far-away localities is the proximity to the markets for handling shipments; to colleges and universities for the education of children, and to the cities for occasional trips. Aroostook has grown marvellously during the past ten years and there is every indication that there will be a greater expansion the next decade.

The immense yield of the Aroostook potato farms is best shown by the figures covering a period of years. The following table shows the crop in bushels for a number of seasons.

The phenomenal potato product in Aroostook has caused this crop to overshadow all other agricultural activities. However it should not be overlooked that Aroostook also produces large crops of hay and grain. The country is particularly well adapted to this purpose; for wheat growing it is unexcelled, the average yield per acre, under ordinary conditions of soil and cultivation, being about 35 bushels to the acre. The high percentage of nutritious elements and the freedom from weeds make the hay crop large and of supreme quality. Because of the wide expanse of smooth fields the work of harvesting is done at a minimum cost which makes hay a highly profitable crop. The abundance of hay and grain will eventually make Aroostook an important stock raising section, although at the present time this branch of husbandry has been rather neglected because of the paramount interest in potatoes.

The expansion of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad and the rapidity in the development of the potato industry has brought about a wide demand for Aroostook farms. There are many localities which are still comparatively unopened and each year sees an increasing influx to this section. For a well-cleared farm under good cultivation, the cost is about $100 per acre. There is, of course, no fixed price and oftentimes a highly desirable piece of property may be had at a bargain price.

The standard size of the Aroostook farm is the regulation 160 acres. At the present time this is considered a large farm. Near any of the business centers of the country, in a locality easily accessible to a railroad shipping point, under good cultivation and with ample buildings, such a farm will range in value from $10,000 to $20,000, according to the percentage of good potato raising land it contains. The buildings on an Aroostook farm must comprise among other things ample barn room for the storage of hay and grain, a good frost-proof potato storehouse capable of holding from 2000 to 3000 barrels. The equipment must include all appliances for planting, cultivating and harvesting the potato and other crops, such as seeders, planters, diggers, sprayers, mowing and reaping machinery, etc. Usually from four to six heavy draft horses are required, and the investment outside of the land runs from $2,000 to $3,000 and many times, much more.

Aroostook's Industrial Development

THE very things that have made the country traversed by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad the great vacation center of the nation are the reasons for the rapidly developing industrial expansion. The waterways, famous for fishing and canoeing, are contributing power, and the great forest areas are turning out lumber for gigantic sawmills and pulp and paper plants of unusual capacity and all is being done along approved lines of modern conservation methods. The Bangor & Aroostook Railroad is taking an important part in this new phase of progress and the future, from the industrial as well as other viewpoints, looks exceedingly bright for this important area of Maine.

Considering its expansive timberlands, well nigh exhaustless under to-day's ideas of conservation, and the proximity to other far reaching forest areas in Canada, it is not surprising that big plants are popping up in various localities along the line of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. Millinocket, still known as "the magic city" because of its springing up in the wilderness, is still a source of pride as a great pulp and paper town, but now Van Buren is coming into the limelight with the big establishment of the Aroostook Pulp & Paper Co. The pulp mill for this company is completed and work is now under way on the paper mill. Since the opening of the connecting road by the international bridge over the St. John River, which makes a link between the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad and the Canadian Government Railways on the New Brunswick side, Van Buren is becoming an important center for the vast lumbering operations on the St. John River waters. This important traffic connection is of apparent advantage to industrial establishments as it supplements the hitherto excellent transportation facilities and means the opening up of the Maine and New Brunswick timber centers to a deep-water port through the direct route from Van Buren to the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad's ocean terminal on Penobscot Bay. The great mill of the St. John Lumber Company is probably the largest of its kind in New England and there are also at Van Buren the mill recently erected by Allen E. Hammond and the plant of the Van Buren Lumber Company, two box mills and a hardwood mill.

On the Fort Kent Division of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad are the lumber manufacturing plants of the Ashland Manufacturing Company, the Eagle Lake Manufacturing Company, the Portage Lumber Company and the Fort Kent Mill Company; and at Stockholm, St. Francis, Davidson, Milo, Guilford, Sangerville, Houlton, Caribou and Presque Isle are other industries.

Want Information?—Write the Bangor & Aroostook Vacation Bureau

THE Bangor & Aroostook Railroad maintains at the office of George M. Houghton, Passenger Traffic Manager, Bangor, a completely equipped Vacation Bureau where may be obtained information regarding canoe trips, fishing and hunting localities, vacation attractions, in fact, all matters pertaining to the country which the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad traverses. If you are planning a woods vacation and are in doubt as to where to spend it, write the Vacation Bureau, telling what you want to do, whether it is canoeing, fishing, hunting or simply “loafing” and the authoritative information will be forthcoming.

Although intended primarily to assist vacation seekers, the Vacation Bureau is actually a general information center on all matters pertaining to the Bangor & Aroostook country. It will give attention to questions relating to farming possibilities and will see that all inquiries reach the proper source for information.

In the case of persons coming from comparatively distant points, there is the question of making connections, preferred routes and other particulars and on all these questions the Vacation Bureau will give service that will result in easy traveling without vexatious delays. Particularly for the person making his or her first woods trip does the Vacation Bureau fill an important place.

Fish and Game Laws in Maine and New Brunswick

FOR hunter or sportsman, or for that matter for all persons coming into the woods, familiarity with the fish and game regulations is a most important part of the equipment. Herewith is printed some of the most important of the laws for Maine and New Brunswick. It is unnecessary to urge upon all planning a woods vacation to become conversant with the laws in a general way at least.

SUMMARY OF GENERAL GAME LAWS OF MAINE

(For full text of the laws, penalties, etc., consult revised edition of the Inland Fish and Game Laws, which may be obtained of the Commissioners of Inland Fisheries and Game, Augusta, Maine.)

Moose and Caribou, protected.

Deer, open season in Aroostook, Penobscot, Washington, Hancock, Piscataquis, Somerset, Franklin and Oxford Counties, October 1 to December 15, both days inclusive; limit in these counties, two deer to a person in one season.

One person can kill only two deer in All this state in one season.

Beaver, no open season except when declared by Commissioners, upon complaint of timberland owners of actual damage done to their property.

Muskrat, open season, October 15 to April 30, inclusive.

Raccoons, open season, October 15 to April 30, inclusive.

Bears, Bobcats, Loupcervier, Canada Lynx or Weasels, no closed season. Open season on all other fur bearing animals October 15 to the last day of February, both days inclusive.

Bobcats, Canada Lynx and Loupcervier, $4.00 bounty on each of these animals killed in Maine.

Bears, $5.00 bounty on each of these animals killed in Maine.

Digging out of Fox dens, prohibited.

Rabbits, open season, October, November, December, January, February and March.

Gray Squirrels, open season, October. Perpetual Closed Season, however, in all public and private parks and within the limits of the compact or built-up portion of any city or village.

All Sunday Hunting Prohibited. Sunday is closed season on all wild birds and wild animals. Penalty, for unprotected birds and animals, not less than $10.00 nor more than $40.00 and costs for each offense; for protected birds and animals, the same penalty as for hunting during the closed season.

All night hunting prohibited. It is closed season on wild birds from sunset to sunrise of the following morning; and on wild animals from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise of the following morning.

The penalty for hunting unprotected birds and animals at night is not less than $10.00 nor more than $50.00. Penalty for hunting protected birds and animals at night is the same as during other closed season.

It is unlawful to hunt with or from an automobile, or by aid or use of any light or lights carried thereon or attached thereto. It is also unlawful to have in possession any jacklight or light fitted for use in hunting game in the night time.

Partridge and Woodcock, open season October 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Ducks, Brant and Geese, Coots, Gallinules and Jacksnipe or Wilson Snipe, open season September 16 to December 31, inclusive.

Black Breasted and Golden Plover, Greater and Lesser Yellowlegs, open season, August 16 to November 30, inclusive.

Rails (except coots and gallinules) open season September 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Perpetual Closed Season on Eagles, Hungarian Partridge, Capercailzie, Black Game, all species of Pheasant (except Ruffed Grouse or Partridge), Curlew, Wood Duck, Swans, and all shore birds (except Black-breasted and Golden Plover, Wilson or Jacksnipe, Woodcock and Greater and Lesser Yellowlegs) and all other wild birds (EXCEPT crows, hawks, owls, English Sparrows, mudhens, king-fishers loons and blue herons) which may be killed at any time.

Daily Limit on Game Birds. No person can kill, have in possession or transport in any one day more than five partridge, ten woodcock, ten duck, ten snipe and five plover. Game birds cannot be sold or purchased at any time.

Fee for a non-resident to fish in this state $2.15. Fee for non-resident to hunt in this state $15.00.

PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK

SUMMARY OF GAME LAWS IN FORCE 1917

No person shall hunt, take, kill, wound or destroy any game or game birds within this Province, except during the OPEN SEASON for such game and game birds, nor unless he has first obtained a license so to do under the penalties prescribed by THE GAME ACT, 1909," and amending Acts.

OPEN SEASON FOR GAME

Moose, Caribou and Deer: Open Season, September 15 to November 30.

Cow Moose and Cow Caribou of any age, and Calf Moose or Calf Caribou under the age of three (3) years, shooting of prohibited at all seasons.

No person shall kill or take more than one Bull Moose, one Bull Caribou and two deer during any one open season.

Moose, Caribou and Deer-Trapping of, or snaring or hunting with dogs, or in the night time, i.e., between one hour after sunset, and one hour before sunrise, is prohibited.

Non-resident hunters prohibited from hunting unless accompanied by a licensed guide. Non-resident license fee $50.00 for hunting big game; $5.00 for fishing.

The game shown as shipped in December includes that killed in open season, and shipped by special permit after the season closed, or left with a taxidermist to be mounted.

The above statement, compiled from records kept by station agents, comprises only game shipped by visiting sportsmen from points on the line of this Company, and does not include that killed by native hunters, nor the large quantity consumed in camps.

THE NORCROSS HOUSE and TRANSPORTATION CO.

Sportsmen going into the woods from Norcross will find comfortable accommodations here. The house is lighted by gas and electric lights, heated by steam, and has hot and cold water in every room, also rooms with private bath. A chance to get a good night's rest after traveling all day on the train.

Parties taking the sleeper from Boston, arriving at Norcross early the next morning, will have an opportunity to get a warm breakfast, and a chance to change to their woods clothes, if they wish, before beginning their trip to camp.

In connection with the hotel we have a supply store where camping parties may purchase everything necessary for a camping trip. We also would be glad to engage guides, and plan tenting trips for sportsmen who have never visited this section before, as we are in touch with all the well-known guides in this section of the country. Our steamers make regular trips across the lakes every day after the arrival of the 10 a. m. train from Bangor. Arrangements may be made for a special boat to go earlier if desired, leaving Norcross not later than 7 a. m. Fare on the regular boat is $1.00 each. Charges for a special boat will cost $5.00 in addition to the regular fare of $1.00 for each person.

Vacationist, Fishermen, Hunters. Six miles from R. R. by motor boat :: :: ::

FISH RIVER LAKE region is famous for its wonderful forests, beautiful lakes, and winding vista thoroughfares (green to the waters edge), big trout and Maine's largest land-locked salmon. Hunting grounds as good as New Brunswick and separated only by a boundary line; freedom from flies and hay fever; cool nights, dry and invigorating atmosphere, and the scenic view from our camps is wonderful. Waters and forests blend, ridges upon ridges loom up until finally capped by Three Brooks Mountains far away in the distance. Our camps and location is conceded to be the finest in the state and appeal to the discriminating. A variety of entertainment is offered including Motor Boating on beautiful lakes and thoroughfares; Charming Canoe trips in non-sinkable sponsor canoes: Fishing, Hunting, Bathing, Hiking, Tennis, Dancing, etc.

The Famous Libby Camps—at Oxbow

LOCATION: The Libby Camps are on the headwaters of the Aroostook River, in the heart of a great area of virgin wilderness. The main camps are on Millinocket and Munsungan Lakes. Other Libby camps are located on Millimegassett Lake, Little Pleasant Pond, Brown Brook, Island Pond, Beaver and Ragged Ponds, Chandler Lake, Bluffer Pond and Reed Pond. Camps can also be furnished on Spider and Churchill Lakes.

FOR SPORTSMEN: The Libby Camps offer extraordinary opportunities for hunting deer, bears, foxes, partridges and ducks. Reference to the table of game shipments from Masardis will show where the Oxbow country stands. FISHING in the Aroostook headwaters is unexcelled, trout, salmon and togue being the fine prizes offered to the angler. CANOEING opportunities are naturally of the best.

FOR A VACATION: Libby's Camps hold out many allurements for men and women wishing a vacation in the Maine woods. The cabins are comfortably furnished with good beds, easy chairs and open fires. Particular attention is paid to the dining room and the table is exceptionally good. Write for illustrated booklet.

The Handiest Tools A Sportsman Ever Carried

You'll add to comfort and safety when camping or hunting if you have a Marble's Safety Axe and a Marble's Waterproof Match Box with you. No matter how wet you get, the matches in your Marble's match box will always be dry, insuring you a fire whenever you need it. And you ought never go into the woods without a Marble's Safety Axe. It is the handiest tool ever made for the outdoor man: axe, hatchet and hammer in one. With it you can set a tent, blaze a trail, cut gambrel sticks, firewood, etc. Every axe a quality tool—tough, keen blades. Several styles, all guaranteed satisfactory. Axe shown is No. 6, hickory handle. Length, 12 in., weight, 22 oz. Solid tool steel blade, 27-8 x 4 3-4 in. Guard folds into groove in handle when axe is in use.

Price, $1.50.

Marble's Match Box, made of brass, nickel plated, size of 10-gauge shell. Absolutely waterproof. Holds big supply. Used by thousands of sportsmen, U. S. and allied soldiers.

Price, 50 cents. At Your Dealers. Or, order direct, if your dealer hasn't them. Send for catalog No. 18, showing all the 60 Marble's Famous Specialties for outdoor "fans."

Accident Insurance

Ten per cent. of all deaths are due to accidental injury. There are 140 cases of disabling injury to every death.

The congested streets of our cities, the rush of travel by land and sea, the thousands of accidents at home and in the office make accident insurance an every day necessity for every bread-winner if he is injured, and for his family if he is killed.

Seven cents a day will buy a Travelers Accident Policy for a large amount, noted for its broad coverage, fair spirit of adjustment and prompt payment of claim.

The Right Fishing Outfit

IF you would really like to know how fascinating a sport fishing is, write for the Illustrated Meek and "Bristol" Catalogues and study for yourself all the fine points of each of these Rod and Reel Prize Winners. Then buy them of your sporting goods dealer. If the above particular selection of rods should not be exactly what you want, talk it over with your dealer, or tell us where you will fish and what kind of fishing you like best. We will be most happy to help you pick out an individual outfit. Each rod can be chosen for its precise adaptability to your requirements and for varying extra amounts can be specially trimmed to please your personal tastes.
