YOU

His Excellency
FREDERICK G. PAYNE
GOVERNOR OF MAINE

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

FREDERICK G. PAYNE
GOVERNOR

Dear Vacationists:

Maine extends a sincere invitation to share its vacation facilities during the coming season,- and for many seasons to come!

Whether you like rugged mountains, quiet, secluded lakes, the more boisterous seashore, verdant farmlands, or shady forest paths,- Maine is ready to share them with you.

Maine's facilities are being improved. The new Kittery-Portland highway gives fast ingress to the Pine Tree State, while the more leisurely "shore route" draws added thousands each year to view the rolling sand beaches, with far-flung vistas of ocean spotted with dazzling white sails and trailing smoke plumes.

Camp sites are being improved. Golf courses amid unexcelled scenery are in top condition. Riding schools and livery stables provide safe and gentle mounts for canters on secluded trails.

Modern hotels, with excellent cuisines, overlook lakes or seashore, with incomparable natural attractions, beckon you.

Sporting camps de-luxe or rustic log lodges are ready for your pleasure and happiness.

Best of all, Maine's traditional hospitality will be expended freely in making you feel at home in this Land of Remembered Vacations.

I urge you to come to Maine - come early and stay late! Every season is Vacation Time in Maine.

Sincerely yours,

FREDERICK G. PAYNE
Governor of Maine

MAINE

Invites You

THIS FIFTEENTH edition of MAINE INVITES YOU is designed to help you plan for that glorious vacation which only the great Pine Tree State can offer.

Between the covers of this booklet an endless variety of information has been arranged for the sole purpose of introducing you to Maine's limitless VACATIONLAND possibilities.

By word and picture we hope to convey some idea of the way Nature has showered her greatest blessings on Maine—silent, mysterious forests, the beauty of lakes and hills, the music of streams, the sweep of great rivers, the majesty of a rock-bound coast and sea-girt isles.

That's why it's such a pleasure to send you this copy of MAINE INVITES YOU—to assist you in planning for maximum enjoyment during your visit to Maine.

A county index map on the opposite page and a complete index of advertisers at the back of the book will help you to locate the place that may interest you. Handy inquiry cards also are included for your convenience in requesting more specific information or reservations from advertisers.

We'll appreciate your mentioning MAINE INVITES YOU when corresponding or conversing with those who have participated in making this book possible. This Bureau is at your service at all times to help you plan for the happiest vacation possible.

RIDE THE MAINE TURNPIKE

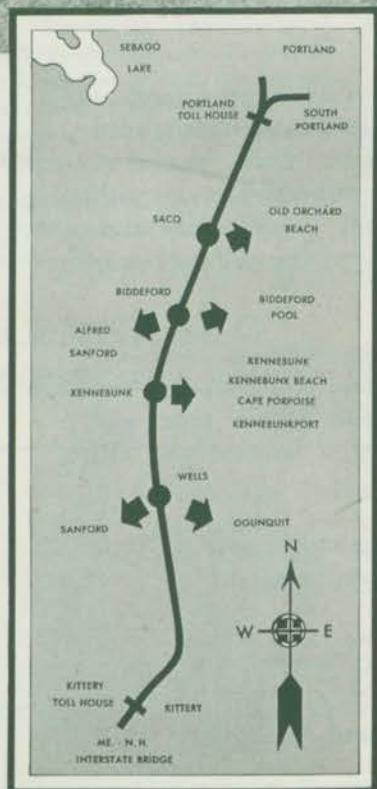

America's newest modern express highway, designed for greater safety and comfort, will add untold enjoyment to your trip, in relaxed motoring through restful scenic beauty.

This express toll highway from the New Hampshire Interstate Bridge straight north for forty-five miles to Portland, Maine, has four traffic lanes, a center parkway, safety shoulders ten feet wide, and bypasses all the busy and congested traffic. No interruptions—just safe, even, relaxed driving that will add rest and comfort to your vacation or business travel.

Restaurant and service station facilities at the KENNEBUNK MIDWAY provide convenient 24 hour service. Esso Service cars are always available for emergency road calls. The Howard Johnson Restaurant and Lunch Bar, located here, offers modern dining accommodations. A pedestrian tunnel connects Midway buildings on both sides of the turnpike.

YORK COUNTY

Maine Invites You

York County

"Maine in a nutshell"—that's how a Maine visitor once described York County. For here in this "southern gateway to Maine" the State's travelling guest finds every form of natural advantage for vacationing, from world-famous beaches of sparkling white sand, from lakes and hills and streams to quaint, historic hideaways of inland country and shore where for more than 300 years people have found relaxation and peace.

To 80 per cent of Maine's vacationers, the wonders of the State begin to unfold in York County. At Kittery, only 50 miles north of Boston, at Eliot, the Berwicks, and Lebanon, the main traffic arteries enter the State from the South.

Along the shore travel line from Kittery, site of the so-called "Portsmouth" Navy Yard, one comes to the historic and beautiful town of York, with its neat sand beaches, spectacular cliffs and quiet rural hamlets, favorite havens of writers, artists and tourists. York Village, York Harbor and York Beach all are strung out like pearls along a branch of Route 1A. The first chartered city in America, York was a popular summer playground for the Indians before it became a Royal Colony in 1641.

Ogunquit, locale of one of America's great summer theatre activities and a world-famous art colony, is an Indian name meaning "Beautiful Place by the Sea." Its beach, together with the beautiful strip of sand at Wells Beach, annually draws thousands of vacationers and summer colonists, to their dreamy quiet shores.

A few miles further north along the coast is Kennebunk Beach and Kennebunkport, where Kenneth Roberts and other famous authors and artists have their summer homes. Both places are on the shore side of the Town of Kennebunk, whose up-to-date business district and charming residential section retain so much of the Early American atmosphere and tradition. Cape Porpoise, a famous fishing village a few miles north of Kennebunkport, was the scene of one of Maine's outstanding Revolutionary War engagements. Beachwood is one of the town's popular resort colonies.

Fortune's Rock and Biddeford Pool are on the ocean side of Biddeford, largest city and metropolis of York County situated at the mouth of the mighty Saco River. Biddeford is the site of the famous Pepperell Mills, home of Lady Pepperell sheets and other Pepperell fabrics known throughout the world. It is also the hub of road traffic for northeastern York County, leading inland to the hill and lake sections and shoreward to Bay View, Ocean Park and Old Orchard Beach.

Old Orchard Beach is a five-mile stretch of gently sloping white sand beach from four to seven hundred feet wide. It is almost flat, with remarkably warm water for ocean bathing. It has more than 100 hotels, scores of rooming houses and restaurants and a world-famous amusement center. In the pioneering days of aviation, its hard-packed sand at low tide was used for take-offs on transatlantic flights.

Maine Invites You

Old Orchard Beach always has been a popular resort with Canadians, more of them visiting here than at any resort even in their own Country. It is estimated that two and one-half million people visit "the Beach" in normal years and facilities for visitors have been provided accordingly. Among other famous attractions, a fast one-mile kite track brings thousands to Grand Circuit and other race meets there.

Recent developments have vastly increased the number of year-round homes at "the Beach" and its permanent population is steadily increasing.

If the visitor enters York County from Dover or Somersworth, N. H., he comes into the State through the Berwicks, which includes Berwick, South Berwick and North Berwick. These are on the western side of the county, comprising a rich farming area and famous in New England history and tradition. The first sawmill in New England was located in this area. Maine sent more men from this section to the Revolutionary War than any other area, and one family here provided Governors for both New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Near South Berwick is the home of Gladys Hasty Carroll, contemporary novelist, who uses Maine and New England as the locale of many of her stories and writings. The Sarah Orne Jewett House, open to the public, contains some of the most beautiful features of any house in New England.

Beyond the Berwicks, the Bauneg Beg Hills, gateway to Sanford, have been developed as a winter sports area, as well as a summer playground, with fishing, swimming, hunting, hiking, golfing and all the other outdoor sports that the region affords.

Another gateway to Sanford is Route 202, entering the State from Rochester, N. H., and crossing the Salmon Falls River and the Town of Lebanon, rich in history and scenically beautiful with gently rolling, pine dotted hills, many brooks and ponds and a fine lake, North East Pond.

Sanford and Springvale, geographically in the center of York County and the center of a superb lake and hill area, is the home of the Goodall-Sanford industries, whose Palm Beach cloth and upholstery and decorative fabrics are known throughout the world. It is the largest community in Maine under the historic town form of administration and also is the home of Nason College, first college for girls established in Maine. It has one of the finest airports in Maine.

Roads northwest from Sanford-Springvale lead to a great summer vacation region dotted with lakes and ponds and streams. Mousam Lake, Square Lake, Pleasant Lake, Balch Pond and Great East Pond, nestle among pretty hills and rolling farm lands in Acton, Shapleigh and Newfield. Great white pine forests cover this central portion of York County.

Northeast from Sanford is the charming shire town of Alfred, whose courthouse vaults contain the oldest continuous court records in the United States, dating back to 1635. Beautiful old houses of prominent early families are located on quiet streets under towering elms. The Whipping Tree, on Oak Street, is said to be the only whipping post now remaining in New England from early colonial days.

Directly east from Alfred is the road to Lyman and Biddeford. Lyman is the heart of the county's white pine belt and has three large ponds, Kennebunk, Bunganut and Swan within its town limits. A village, Goodwin's Mills, is the business center of Lyman.

North from Alfred to Waterboro and East Waterboro one passes through a delightful recreational region dotted with lakes and mountains. Shaker Pond is just off Routes 4 and 202, while Little Ossipee Pond, where North Star Camp of the Portland YMCA is located, is at the foot of beautiful Ossipee Mountain, which rises 1050 feet almost from the shore of a salmon-stocked lake. Ossipee Mountain has a CCC automobile road almost to its peak and excellent picnic sites and open air fireplaces for the public. From the summit is a breathtaking view for miles in every direction.

From the Waterboros Route 5 leads to the north-western corner of York County, where are Limerick, East Parsonsfield, Cornish and Limington. This again is beautiful hill and lake country, with Sokokis Lake, Little Ossipee River, Pequawket Lake and other lesser ponds and streams and villages and pleasant valleys that made it a favorite region of the Indians and early settlers.

In the north central part of the county is the famous Saco River Valley region of Dayton, Hollis Center, Bar Mills and West Buxton, the latter made famous by, among other things, Kate Douglas Wiggin's "Old Peabody Pew". The scene of this famous story and play is the old Tory Hill Meeting House at Buxton Lower Corner. The spectacular Salmon Falls Gorge of the Saco River divides Buxton and Hollis and the park there is visited annually by thousands.

Besides its two world-famous textile plants at Biddeford and Sanford and its unequalled recreational advantages, York County is a highly developed agricultural area, having 140 days annually without killing frosts. It is part of the Atlantic Truck and Vegetable Region, growing crops such as peaches and melons usually grown farther south. Dairying, poultry raising, orcharding and forestry are important components of its rural economy and it contains the largest orchard in Maine of more than 16,000 trees.

Well-kept homes and farms, excellent highways, varied industrial opportunities, every form of recreational advantage close by, from the mountains to the sea, and the keen civic consciousness of its residents justify them in regarding their section of the State as the "show window of Maine".

A 45-mile toll superhighway, called the Maine Turnpike, is now in operation between Kittery and Portland.
Side exits and entrances are in operation at Wells, Biddeford and Saco and a fourth interchange for Kennebunk.

The Kittery entrance from U. S. Route One is, for east-bound traffic, just beyond the Maine New Hampshire Memorial Bridge. It leaves Route One in a broad, sweeping curve to the left. A branch information office of the Maine Publicity Bureau is located in the U. S.
Route One-Maine Turnpike triangle.

At the northern end, the turnpike rejoins Route One on the outskirts of South Portland, while a spur access enters Portland on Outer Congress Street, on State Routes Nine and 22.

The four-lane, bisected toll highway makes possible a fast trip to Biddeford and Portland for motorists not desiring to take the scenic route along Maine's southern beaches and coastal communities.

Motorists desiring to stay on U. S. Route One should continue straight ahead at the Kittery intersection, where signs for both routes are in place. U. S. Route One, between Kittery and Portland, is mostly three- and four-lane, except through some cities and towns. It affords glimpses of shore scenery at many places and numerous access roads lead directly to all shore and beach areas.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY

Cumberland County

Cumberland County, Maine's most populous area, is, like York, a scenic wonderland stretching from the mountains to the sea. Along the coast, where most vacationers enter the State, are innumerable beaches, stern headlands and cliffs, hundreds of harbors, islands and inlets, where boating, swimming and deep and shallow water fishing offer residents and vacationers alike an unlimited scope of activities.

Inland the great Sebago Lake-Long Lake chain, with its scores of lesser lakes and ponds and streams covering an area of hundreds of square miles provides a recreational area for many thousands of persons annually.

Pine Point, adjoining the Old Orchard Beach section of York County, continues the beach features of the coast, with famous resort centers such as Prouts Neck, Scarborough Beach, Higgins Beach, and Cape Elizabeth forming the southern side of the great Casco Bay area centering on Maine's largest city, Portland. The Casco Bay area contains hundreds of islands long popular with vacationists. Along its shores, from Cape Cottage and South Portland, the scenic route passes through Falmouth, Cumberland, Yarmouth, Freeport and Brunswick, thence seaward southeast to the northern shores of Casco Bay, to the resort and fishing areas of Harpswell, Orr's Island and Bailey.

Portland is the metropolis for this coastal area, "the beautiful town that is seated by the sea" of its native Longfellow. On a peninsula less than a mile wide, swept by cool sea breezes, it is a city of modern hotels, banks, department stores, theaters, libraries, churches and museums. Eight golf courses, many tennis courts, bridle paths, fresh and salt water boating and beaches are in the city or nearby. In the adjoining City of Westbrook are the great paper mills of the S. D. Warren Company, makers of the paper on which this booklet is printed, and the Dana Warp Mills of the textile industry.

Northwest from Portland, on the threshold of the great Sebago Lakes region is a farming area famous for dairying and vegetable crops. This includes North Yar-

The living room has an open fireplace. There is a fine view of the ocean from the large airy dining rooms and porches. Sea food is served twice a day in addition to other food. The vegetables and eggs are received daily from local farms. Sebago Lake is the source of the water supply, famous for its purity. The rooms are large, with ample light, good beds and nearly all have hot and cold running water while several have private baths.

SCARBOROUGH

One of New England's Most Famous Coastal Areas

Scarborough, incorporated in 1658, is famous for its history, its scenic and coastal beauty and for its delicious sea food.

Many of the most beautiful coastal scenes have been immortalized by the paintings of Winslow Homer, but even these can convey but partially the beauty of the sea, the rugged rocks, the miles of beautiful bathing beaches and the rolling country that stretches back from the ocean.

Scarborough's fine hotels, located near the beaches, the many cottages and the numerous summer camps that are available during the summer months are easily accessible by all modes of travel and afford a beautiful setting for a pleasant vacation, from which all other points in Maine may conveniently be reached.

Lake, Thomas Pond, Pleasant Lake, Highland Lake and Thompson Lake dot this area.

Adjoining Oxford County to the west, the hill and lake sections of Baldwin, Douglas Hill and Steep Falls abound in trout waters, bridle paths and hiking trails, camp sites and farming and lumber country.

Along the north central rim of the county is the historic town of New Gloucester, where the famous Shaker Society was organized in 1794, and the present Shaker Village and Church on the road to Poland Spring attract many visitors. Its farm lands and forest slope down to beautiful Sabbathday Lake.

Besides its magnificent and varied terrain, Cumberland County has many unusual and historic features.

Bradbury Mountain State Park in Pownal contains a granite bluff rising 484 feet facing south, with a beautiful panorama of Casco Bay and the islands and estuaries off Freeport.

At Freeport is one of the most unusual phenomena in the State, a "desert" of more than 500 acres. When first noticed more than 60 years ago, this was a patch of sand less than 30 feet square. Wind and weather over the years have done the rest. Yearly it spreads, covering everything in its path with multi-colored sands.

Freeport also has been called the "birthplace of Maine", for it was here that commissioners from the Province of Maine and its parent Commonwealth of Massachusetts met in 1820 and signed the papers which made Maine a separate state of the Union.

Brunswick, easternmost town of the County, is the site of Bowdoin College, historic guardian of culture, whose distinguished sons over the years have provided state and national leadership. Here also, textile and paper mills have for many years poured economic lifeblood into the surrounding area.

Harpwell, Orr's Island and Bailey's Island, reached by highway from Brunswick or by passenger steamer from Portland, are picturesque vacation and outing spots. The sight of a Maine lobsterman fixing his traps, or a small boat fisherman mending his nets, is commonplace along the shore. Here tuna fishing has become both a great sport and an important summer industry in recent years and deep sea fishing trips can be arranged on short notice. On Orr's Island is "Pearl House", locale of Harriet Beecher Stowe's "The Pearl of Orr's Island."

Besides being the focal points for business and transportation in the County, Portland and South Portland are cities of many types of industries. They are constantly growing, yet are not congested.

Magnificent views of Casco Bay on the east and the mountains on the west are to be had from Portland's Eastern and Western Promenades, beautiful landscaped esplanades on high ground at either end of the city. Noteworthy points include its unsurpassed water system (from Sebago Lake); Kotzschmar Memorial Organ in Portland City Hall, with public summer recitals by outstanding organists; Portland Municipal Airport (Class 3) near the Stroudwater terminus of the old Cumberland-Oxford Canal; the Wadsworth-Longfellow House and Longfellow birthplace; Portland Observatory on Munjoy Hill; Victoria Mansion, the many museums and art exhibits, and Portland's nearness to beach, lake and mountain.

West of Portland, at the Southwestern entrance to the Sebago Lake region is historic Gorham, first called Naragansett. Fort Hill, Gorham State Normal School, the Baxter Museum and the Crockett-Jewett-Broad House, built in 1765, are outstanding spots in a pleasant community of fine old homes standing amid stately shade trees. It is also the center of a large farming area and is essentially a residential town.

Numerous highways lead to the Sebago Lake-Long Lake region stretching to the northern part of the county and beyond, a veritable wonderland of lakes, streams, forests and hills. Sebago Lake, 14 miles long and 11 miles wide reaches a depth of 400 feet in some places. From the crystal-pure, spring-fed waters of this lake comes the inexhaustible water supply for Portland and the surrounding area, including several of the Casco Bay islands. On the shore of Sebago in North Windham has been discovered the largest Indian burial ground in the United States and thousands of Indian relics have been collected there.

Sebago Lake State Park consists of 1,296 acres on the lake on both sides of the Songo River, which connects Sebago and Long Lakes. On the Casco side is a day-outing area, while a camping area is on the Naples side. Tenting and trailer stalls, parking areas, fireplaces, picnic tables and all the facilities of a large state park are found in the area, which provides 10 miles of trails, five miles of roads, 4,500 feet of sandy beach and boats and refreshment concessions.

Throughout Cumberland County agriculture is highly-developed and widely diversified. From its dairy herds have come national and world champions and its variegated soil produces every type of vegetable in abundance, its crops being shipped to all eastern markets. Sea and shore fisheries are a big industry in its coastal belt, while its scores of industries, both large and small, help make it a thriving, prosperous area.

For ease of living, convenience in every mode of transportation—air, rail, highway or sea—for activity or relaxation, Cumberland County offers the vacationer unlimited choice.

OXFORD COUNTY

Oxford County

Northwest of Cumberland County and the Sebago-Long Lakes region lies a fairland of lakes and hills, busy towns and quiet villages within the borders of Oxford County. Its western boundary is the state line with New Hampshire and it stretches for 125 miles north and south, extending from the Fryeburg resort area to the roadless wilderness of the Rangeley Lakes-Magalloway River region. In its central area it is not more than 50 miles wide, composed of fertile farming country, summer and winter resorts and spotless industrial villages and towns.

The beautiful Androscoggin River runs through the middle of the county, west to east, and provides water and power for numerous industries, the majority of them concerned with woodworking and paper products. At Rumford, is one of the greatest sources of water power in New England where the river drops 180 feet in the space of a mile.

Crossing into Oxford County in the south from the Sebago Lake region, roads from Hiram and East Brownfield and from Naples and Bridgton lead to Fryeburg, oldest town in the county, situated on a plain of the Saco River valley. Once an Indian settlement known as Pequawket, Fryeburg is now a resort and highway center between Southern Maine and the White Mountains. Here Daniel Webster was once preceptor of Fryeburg Academy and Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer and a former resident placed the two Meridian Stones to indicate the true north for surveyors. Denmark, a few miles to the southwest, is a center of farming activities and summer camps in the surrounding area.

From Fryeburg north into Oxford County, run two main highways that open up a country of lakes, hills and forests as scenic as any in the State of Maine. Through North Fryeburg and Stow passes Route 113 to Gilead, named for its Balm of Gilead trees in the center of the town. This road for miles passes through a section of the White Mountain National Forest, which occupies an area of many square miles in this section of Maine. Six miles from Gilead is Evans Notch, from which may be seen spectacular views of the Presidential Range. Tumbling mountain streams, high peaks, fragrant pine and cedar forests, teeming lakes and ponds abound in this area.

The second road from Fryeburg north through Oxford County is Route 5, passing through the Lovells to Bethel. Lovell was named for Capt. John Lovewell, whose famous battle with the Indians near Fryeburg is immortalized in Longfellow's first poem. Parts of Lovell Village, Center Lovell and North Lovell lie on lovely Kezar Lake, jewel of this region, whose pine-clad shores shelter many summer homes and widely-known resorts.

At Lynchville, further north on Route 5, is the Bumpus Mine, one of the most productive feldspar deposits in the State, where clear pink and green beryl crystals are found. The largest beryl crystal in the world was taken from this mine in 1930. Albany and Stoneham both are centers of hilly-wooded townships where bridle paths and mountain climbing attract the hardier souls. Lake Keewaydin in Stoneham is a salmon lake, while Albany lies in the valley of picturesque Crooked River.

South from Lynchville on Route 35 are North Waterford and South Waterford, where Lake Keoka and the Five Kezars are favorite cottage and camp sites. Waterford is the birthplace and home of the late Artemus Ward, famous American humorist.

In the Southeastern section of Oxford County is Oxford, on the northern shore of Thompson Lake, an outstanding recreational and fishing area, which lies partly in Cumberland County.

Norway, at the southern end of Lake Pennesseewassee, is a business and recreational center for the surrounding area. It is noted for its manufacture of shoes, wood products, snowshoes, skis, sleds and moccasins and several nearby mines turn out feldspar, quartz and semi-precious stones. Artemus Ward learned the printer's trade here, Hugh Pendexter wrote historical novels and Mellie Dunham set forth with his fiddle to capture the romantic heart of America. Winter sports are a popular item on the calendar in the area around Norway.

A few miles east of Norway is Paris, shire town of the county, made up of South Paris, West Paris and Paris Hill. South Paris is also a busy industrial and business center, producing wood products, toys and novelties. Paris Hill was the earliest residential section of the township and the birthplace of Hannibal Hamlin, Vice President of the United States with the martyred Lincoln. Nearby is Snow Falls, with a drop of 40 feet to the gorge of the Little Androscoggin River; a Maine Mineral Store, a museum of Maine gems; and Mount Mica, a great source of tourmalines and with one of the most notable pegmatite exposures in the State.

Bryant Pond and Locke's Mills, both on the road from Paris to Bethel, are summer business centers for a surrounding lake and hill area, and have several small industries, notably in wood products. Nearby are the Greenwood Ice Caves, formed by landslides of huge boulders which make up large caverns inside where ice is found in midsummer.

Bethel is a pretty town nestled in the Oxford Hills and along the banks of the Androscoggin River. Its Gould Academy is one of the leading preparatory schools of the State. Songo Pond, Twitchell Pond, North Pond and Lake Christopher are in the Bethel-Locke's Mills-Bryant Pond area.

From Bethel Route 26 follows the course of the Androscoggin to North Bethel and Newry, thence northwest to North Newry, Grafton and Upton. North Newry is an agricultural center, with mountains and hills on all sides. Mt. Plumbago in Newry has a greater variety of gems than any other Maine deposit. It is the site of an old lead mine. Screw Auger Falls, where the swirling water of Bear River has worn holes up to 25 feet deep in the solid rock of the river-bed, is one of the many sights in this locality. This entire area is full of deep gorges, caves, and rugged ledge terrain, making it a favorite of hikers and picnickers. Old Speck Mountain and Bald Mountain are separated by Grafton Notch in the trip through this scenic wonderland.

Upton, last town in Oxford County on this route, overlooks Umbagog Lake, source of the Androscoggin River, which drains the Rangeley Lakes region. It is the headquarters for sportsmen and vacationers heading for a region that offers unlimited opportunities for fishing, hunting, boating, hiking, camping, etc.

Hanover and Andover, coming into prominence as a winter sports center, continue Route 5 from Newry to South Arm, at the lower end of Richardson Lake. From South Arm vacationers, sportsmen and campers go by boat and woods roads to Middle Dam and Upper Richardson Lake to Upper Dam, connecting with the western side of Mooselookmeguntic Lake, largest of the Rangeley chain. This entire area is an unspoiled wilderness of lakes, woods, streams and mountains, teeming with fish, big game and wild birds. Aziscoos Mountain, Sawyer (Aziscoos) Lake, Parmachenee Lake, for which the famous Parmachenee Belle trout fly was named, and West Kennebagos Mountain, are annual favorites with thousands of fishermen, hunters and vacationers. The Magalloway and Rapid Rivers and Cupsuptic Stream are famous for their fighting square-tail trout and lakes of the area yield large land-locked salmon.

Route 16, from Rangeley, cuts across the upper corner of Oxford County, connecting Pleasant Island at the upper end of Mooselookmeguntic with Wilson's Mills on the lower end of Sawyer Lake.

On the eastern and central side of Oxford County are such towns as Hebron, an agricultural and orcharding center, site of famous Hebron Academy and a State Sanatorium; Buckfield, Sumner, Hartford, Canton, Peru, and Dixfield, all of them centers of farming and recreational areas and with small industries nearly all based on various wood products. Anasagunticook Lake in Canton has bass, salmon, trout and perch and the annual bass fishing tournament in this town is the Mecca of many sportsmen.

Camps • CANTON • MAINE

The main lodge with its breeze-swept porch is the center of evening activities, where good fellowship prevails. There are no set programs of entertainment. Everything is spontaneous and everyone is welcome to join in or not as they please.

While mosquitoes are not a plague at Pinehaven, we eliminate them completely by spraying the entire area around the lodge and cabins.

Informal clothes are the order of the day from morn till night. If you wish, bring a pretty dress or two for the Friday night dance and the weekly dances held by the other two camps nearby at which Pinehaven guests are always welcome.

South Beach directly across from Pinehaven is without doubt as fine a beach as can be found on any lake. Pure white sand stretching along a shaded shore for over 1/4 mile, the beach slopes gradually into deep water. Recline in the shade or bask in the sun. Perfect enjoyment for both swimmer and dunker.

Pinehaven's forty acres with 1/3 mile of pine and hemlock sheltered shoreline on Lake Anasagunticook is primarily an adult camp; purposely small enough to allow friendly folk who like our "be-yourself" atmosphere to enjoy a real rest and the simple pleasures of the real outdoors.

We believe that you will agree that no finer meals are served consistently anywhere at anywhere near our rates.

Maine style lobster and softshell clams are cooked and served in the grove beside the lake. Prepared by an experienced Maine guide, our guests look forward to this treat every Wednesday evening.

Equally enjoyed by all is the Sunday evening buffet supper. Here each week's new guests are initiated into the fun and fellowship which prevails at Pinehaven.

Use of canoes and row boats is included in the rate. Salmon, bass, trout, pickerel, and pan fish offer the fisherman plenty of action. Golfers may play on three different courses, all within a short drive from Camp.

OXFORD COUNTY

Rumford is the largest community in the county and is the site of one of the largest paper mills in the world, the Oxford Paper Company. Here the Ellis, Swift and Concord Rivers flow into the Androscoggin and the Falls are within direct view of the business section. This latter is on an island formed by a canal and three bridges connect it with the mainland.

An important social center for that section of the County, Rumford is also regarded as Maine's outstanding winter sports center, with championship ski jumps, ski trails, skating rinks, and other facilities. Nearby is Mount Zircon, famous for its Moontide Spring, the flow of which is influenced by the moon's phases and increases 22 gallons a minute when the moon is full.

North from Mexico are Frye, Roxbury, Byron and Houghton on the road to Oquossoc. Route 17 here follows the course of the Swift River through a region of farms and woodlands, full of ponds and streams, where fishing and hunting facilities abound. Byron, on the Swift River, is one of the few places in Maine where gold can be washed right out of the river bed.

Oxford County comprises a total of 1,980 square miles. It has 301 named peaks and scores of others that bear no name. It is a county of lakes and hills, of medium elevation, where sparkling, pineladen air adds to the zest of living in summer or winter. Its agriculture and industry have been a source of prosperity for its residents and to the thousands who visit the county annually for sports or vacations it offers a rendezvous with nature that has no equal.

Franklin County

Franklin County

Franklin County, adjoining the eastern border of Oxford County, is one of the so-called northern tier of Maine counties whose northern limits stretch into the great expanse of forests, lakes and mountains contiguous to the Canadian border.

In the southern section of the county it is bisected by the fertile valley of the Sandy River, while the west central section contains the eastern half of the world-famous Rangeley Lakes region.

Farmington, in the south, is the shire town and hub of the county, with good roads leading from it to the many smaller towns and villages, through rolling country of indescribable beauty, dotted with lakes, blue-capped hills and picturesque forest—emerald green in summer, dark in winter, multi-colored in spring and gorgeously gay in autumn from the valleys to the rounded summits.

Farmington is the main highway gate to the Rangeley and Dead River regions and the business and commercial center of a great agricultural, orcharding and recreational region. Sweet corn, canning peas, potatoes, dairying and small grains are raised in abundance in this section. Farmington also is the birthplace of Madame Nordica, whose home is a shrine open to visitors and here also is the home of Jacob Abbott, author of the famous Rollo books and many others. The famous Abbott family school for boys was opened here in 1841, achieving national fame as the Little Blue School. Here also is one of the State's best known teachers' colleges. Clearwater, Norcross, Varnum and Wilson Lakes are nearby. There is bass fishing in the Sandy River and trout abound in the nearby streams that flow from the countless springs that gush from the hillsides.

Southwest of Farmington is Wilton, with a beautiful panorama of Wilson Lake. With its sporty golf course and unequalled facilities for boating, canoeing, swimming, fishing and other lake sports, it is a favorite of vacationers and picnickers. The famous Wilton Woolen Mill, Bass Shoe Factory and wood products and canning plants provide industrial income for hundreds of nearby

RELIEF FROM HAY FEVER

Maine is rapidly becoming known as a mecca for those suffering from hay fever.

Broadly speaking, places in the forested regions offer great relief and in many cases entire immunity is had, particularly in northern Oxford County and in the Rangeley region and the wooded country around Moosehead Lake. Probably anywhere up in the "Big Woods", region of Maine where grasses and pollen bearing weeds are not found can be confidently recommended.

Along the coast where the growth is principally coniferous, Monhegan Island, Newagen, Squirrel Island, Mount Desert Island, Petit Manan and Eastport are recommended.

residents. Wilton is also an active winter sports center, with the nearby hills affording smooth, natural inclines and the frozen lakes making glassy stretches of ice. Widely-known Wilton Academy, a fine public library and an active and enthusiastic civic group help make it an attractive town.

Jay and Chisholm, on the road to Lewiston, are centers of quarrying and pulp and paper manufacture and have seasonal canning plants. Farmington Falls and New Sharon are southeast of Farmington and are pretty towns on the Sandy River noted as agricultural and small manufacturing centers. Chesterville is another pretty farming village, with canning plants and wood products plants.

Weld, northwest of Farmington, is in a beautiful valley surrounded by rugged mountains. Here is found Mount Blue State Park, which lies also partly in Avon. This park contains 4,920 acres, runs to the east shore of Lake Webb and embraces Center Hill, with a good highway leading to its 1,600-foot summit. Scenic drives and hikes, swimming and water sports and a marvelous panorama from a parking overlook make Mount Blue State Park a favorite of campers and tourists.

Northeast of Farmington is the little village of New Vineyard, a favorite hunting and fishing area. Strong, on the Sandy River, is a farming, livestock and small industry center on the road to Kingfield. The latter is a modern little town in the valley of the Carrabasset River, which provides waterpower here for several mills. Maine's first Governor, William King, lived here. It commands a marvelous view of mountains to the west, including Mount Abraham, Saddleback, Spaulding, Sugar Loaf and Crocker Mountains.

Further along on Route 27 are Carrabassett and Bigelow, small settlements on the Carrabassett and surrounded by deep forests. The Bigelow Game Preserve takes in parts of Bigelow and Dead River Plantation. It is a vast wooded area where big game, game birds and smaller animals roam unmolested. Stratton and Eustis are villages famed as campsites on the Arnold Trail, named for the route taken by Benedict Arnold and his men on their ill-fated march through Maine to Quebec. Just outside of Stratton are the famous Cathedral Pines, a tract of several square miles of tall Norway pines, one of the few remaining stands of virgin timber. From Eustis the road follows the northern branch of Dead River over the Height of Land and through Chain of Ponds to the Lake Megantic region in Quebec. There Arnold's men followed the Chaudiere River to where it empties into the St. Lawrence near Quebec City.

The most travelled road out of Farmington is Route 4, leading to the Rangeley region. Phillips is a thriving community in the upper Sandy River valley, overshadowed by majestic Mount Blue, Saddleback and Mount Abraham. Fertile upland and alluvial soil produce bumper crops in the nearby area and dairying and livestock also find a ready market in the nearby Rangeley section. A woolen mill and various lumber and wood products factories make for a busy town economy.

A few miles north of Phillips is said to be one of the grandest scenic panoramas in Maine, with a view of a half-dozen mountains on all sides. Madrid on the road to Rangeley is a small village on the western branch of the Sandy River, which here contains a number of beautiful falls.

Rangeley is the center of the far-famed Rangeley Lakes region, with numerous hotels, lodges and camps, a seaplane base, lake steamboat service and a wide range of sports facilities, to which it has now added winter sports accommodations. Its three golf courses are 2,000 feet above sea level and the entire area is famed as a health-giving summer resort, free from hay-fever conditions. Within a radius of 10 miles are more than 40 trout and salmon lakes and ponds of all sizes. In the Rangeley chain of lakes are Rangeley, Quimby Pond, Dodge Pond, Kennebago, Loon, Saddleback, Mooselookmeguntic, Cupsuptic, Upper and Lower Richardson, Aziscoos and Umbagog, with connecting streams making an area of more than 450 square miles of fishing, hunting, canoeing, swimming, or just plain loafing.

From Rangeley Route 16 goes northeast to follow the South Branch of the Dead River, through Dallas Plantation to Stratton. A private toll road goes north to the Kennebago Region, with Big and Little Kennebago Lake and connecting Kennebago Stream, a region where fly fishing is unequalled.

West from the village of Rangeley is the road along the northern side of Rangeley Lake to Mountain View, Oquossoc, Haines Landing, Bald Mountain, Barker and Mooselookmeguntic Lake. From Oquossoc Route 16 traverses Northern Oxford County to Wilson's Mills at the western side of this magnificent recreational area. Like Northern Oxford County, this northern side of Franklin County is a wonderland of lakes, streams and mountains with nothing but trails and woods roads once the vacationer leaves the paved main highways.

In spite of its wilderness appeal, the region is well spotted with camps, lodges, summer resorts, hotels and other modern conveniences. In addition to the seaplane base a Class One airport at Rangeley brings in vacationers and private planes. State fish hatcheries breed salmon and trout at Oquossoc and the Rangeley Game Preserve covers many hundreds of acres, assuring a constant supply of game to the surrounding areas.

The log cabin style of summer hotel life was born in this region, with comfortable camps containing fireplaces, baths, housekeeping service and other details, such as central dining rooms, libraries, group entertainment, etc.

From its rich agricultural areas and thriving industrial activities to its wonderland of recreational features, Franklin County has long been one of the outstanding and most attractive areas in Maine for visitor and resident alike.

Somerset County

Somerset County is another of the northern tier of Maine counties, its southern end a part of the fertile and industrial region of Central Maine and its northern reaches traversing a vast roadless area of rivers, lakes and forests extending into Canada.

The great Kennebec River flows southward for more than half its length within the borders of the county and in the northern part of the county are the headwaters of the St. John and Penobscot Rivers. The southern border of the county invades the famous Belgrade Lakes section of Central Maine.

Skowhegan is the name of the largest town and the county seat. It is the hub of a network of roads entering the county from various directions. From it the main roads lead north through the county to Jackman and into Quebec.

The center of a rich farmland area, Skowhegan is an up-to-date small city with modern stores, hotels, restaurants and other facilities and a residential area with many fine historic homes and tree-shaded streets. Leading industries are woolen goods, shoes, pulp and paper, canning, wood products and commercial activities.

Five miles from Skowhegan is Lakewood, world famous summer resort and summer theatrical center on the shore of Lake Wesserunsett. Its summer theatre dates from 1900 and it has achieved fame as "Broadway in Maine" because it annually attracts the leading stars of the New York stage with performances of Broadway hits.

Norridgewock, southwest of Skowhegan, was the original shire town of the county and is rich in Indian and historic lore. There still stands the early Congregational Church, the old county jail and the Danforth Tavern, where the old bar and ballroom remain intact. The trip from Norridgewock to Madison leads past the Old Point section, where Father Rale, missionary to the Indians, was murdered in 1724.

Other towns in the southern corner of the county include Mercer, a little lumbering and farming village; Smithfield, between North Pond and East Pond on the road from Oakland in the Belgrade Lakes chain of Kennebec County; Fairfield, an industrial and business town with neat homes on the road from Waterville. Canaan, Palmyra, Starks, Larone and Hinckley, the latter containing the famous Good Will Farm of 2,600 acres and 40 buildings, providing a home for deserving boys and girls. Its museum contains one of the country's outstanding and most varied collections of items extending back to prehistoric times.

To the east of Skowhegan the lower eastern section of the county is an important industrial, agricultural and recreational area containing Pittsfield, a busy trading center with a woolen mill, shoe factory and other

MAINE CLIMATE MOST HEALTHFUL IN NATION

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau annual meteorological summary, says "Maine has the most healthful climate in the United States and equals any in the world, not only in the summer but also, contrary to popular belief, in the winter.

"Sunshine averages close to 60 per cent for the year and monthly averages vary little during the changes of seasons. Frequently the winter has more sunshiny days than the summer.

"It is a fact that southern Maine has more actual hours of sunshine during the summer months of June, July, August and September than the famous winter resorts of Florida, Georgia, Texas and California have during the winter months of November, December, January and February.

"Vitamin 'D' has been recognized as being very necessary to invalids or convalescent patients. Maine's sunshine and large number of crystal clear days assure residents of large quantities of vitamin 'D' and ultra-violet rays to insure good health."

fishing waters and vacationing territory are in this region.

On the left bank of the Kennebec, the main highway continues on to Quebec over the so-called Jackman highway through Caratunk, the gateway to Pierce Pond, Pleasant Pond and Moxie Mountain, and to The Forks, named because of the confluence of the waters of Dead River which has flowed down from the hills and lakes of Franklin County to join those of the Kennebec, which have come from Moosehead Lake through the East and West Outlets.

The Forks, Troutdale on Lake Moxie, Indian Pond reached via Tarratine, Long Pond, Lake Parlin and Jackman sections are fishing and hunting sections of renown. The lakes have an abundance of trout, landlocked salmon and togue and the woods abound with partridge, woodcock, deer and bear. Pierce Pond, Mount Coburn, Spencer Lake and the Dead River region also are great hunting and fishing areas. From Jackman, Big Wood Lake, Attean Lake, Holeb Pond and the waters of Moose River are favorites with hunters, fishermen and campers.

At Jackman a highway extends to Rockwood on the westerly shore of Moosehead Lake, largest in Maine, and thence south to Greenville, crossing West and East Outlets to the southern shore of Moosehead.

For trout, salmon and togue (lake trout) fishing, the Jackman region has long been famous. Salmon thrive in these cool northern waters and weigh from two to seven pounds and more. Moose River waters are celebrated for the fighting qualities of these "landlocked" salmon. Smaller ponds also are well stocked. It is the last frontier in this great unspoiled region on the historic "Indian Trail" highway leading to Quebec. Throughout this entire section and in Dennistown are summer camps where the public is offered fishing in abundance while in the Fall, during the hunting season, the opportunities for this type of sport are vast indeed.

The northern third of Somerset County is traversed by a private road now open to the public from Rockwood to Pittston Farm and on into Quebec. In this region Penobscot Lake, Canada Falls, Seboomook Lake and Seboomook lie in a vast forest, lake and wilderness region reaching north to St. John Pond and Baker Lake. These latter are the headwaters of the mighty St. John River, which forms much of the northern boundary of Maine with Canada.

Rockwood, Maine

THE natural beauty of the Moosehead Region has attracted many nature loving people for years. In the midst of this grandeur The Birches enjoys a fine location Northwest of Kineo Mt. and many enthralling views. The vitalizing freshness of this region, the clear, pure air, filtered by vast forests, make it an ideal playground for those who seek exercise, or those needing rest or relaxation. Here nerves, wearied by the rush of modern life, soon respond to the rhythm of trees and water, the scent of pines, the crackle of the open fire, the splash of jumping fish, and all serve as a tonic for the physical being and sustenance for the soul.

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY

Piscataquis County

Piscataquis, the "county of lakes", is the second largest county in Maine. Within its 4,205 square miles are 252,872 acres of water, almost twice as much as any other Maine county.

Located in the north central part of Maine, it contains four outstanding features: In the northern section it contains hundreds of large and small lakes in a wilderness of forest and mountain; it contains Moosehead Lake, largest in the State; it is the site of mile-high Mount Katahdin and Baxter State Park; and its southern section, containing most of its built up villages and towns, is an important agricultural and industrial area.

The Moosehead Lake region is one of Maine's most popular hunting, fishing and vacationing areas. Forty miles long and twenty miles wide, the lake contains several large islands, many bays and inlets and is fed by scores of streams and lesser lakes. Hemmed by rugged mountains and flanked by the virgin forest, Moosehead has been a haven of rest and a center of sports and recreation for many years. Its waters provide unexcelled trout, togue and salmon fishing from the time the ice goes out, early in May, until the hunting season in October. From Moosehead Lake start five famous canoe trips: The East and West Branch trips, the Allagash, the Allagash Circuit and the St. John River trip.

Greenville, at the foot of the lake, is the starting point for excellent roads that strike for many miles northward along both sides of the lake into the wilderness regions beyond. To the west one road leads through Greenville Junction to East and West Outlets, Rockwood and Seboomook to Caucomgomoc Lake 80 miles to the north. To the northeast the other road leads through Lily Bay and Kokadjo to Ripogenus Dam at the foot of Chesuncook Lake and around Harrington Lake to Baxter State Park and the Katahdin region.

From Greenville also lake steamers and other boats travel to various resort centers on the lake. Opposite Rockwood and West Outlet, Kineo Mountain rises sheer from the heart of the lake. A beautiful resort spot, it is the largest mass of hornblende in the world and Indian implements and weapons made from its flint have been found in all sections of New England. A few miles from Greenville, on Little Wilson Stream, a fifty-seven foot falls in a sheer slate canyon makes one of the prettiest cascades in the State. Big Squaw Mountain, near Greenville Junction, is easily climbed and affords a magnificent view of the entire area. East and West Outlet, Rockwood and Seboomook, all on the western shore of the lake, are renowned vacation and resort centers. Along this road is a state fish hatchery containing more than three miles of runs and breeding pools where hundreds of thousands of landlocked salmon are raised.

Lily Bay is almost a lake in itself and is separated from the main lake by Sugar Island. It is a fishing center of high repute and many record salmon and trout are taken each year. Spencer Narrows farther up the east shore from Lily Bay are at the entrance to Spencer Bay, at the head of which is Spencer Mountain and nearby Spencer Pond, always favorite fishing waters and an area full of game. Kokadjo, on beautiful Kokadjo Lake is the center of a fly-fishing area embracing 23 ponds and numerous streams. Further on is Ripogenus Dam, 92 feet high at the head of West Branch Gorge. At the foot of Chesuncook Lake, it is the jumping off place for the vast northern area of Piscataquis County, with its trackless forests and lakes such as Chamberlain, Sournahunk, Telos, Webster, Umbazooksus, Allagash, Churchill, Chemquasabamticook, and hundreds of others, both large and small.

Mount Katahdin, in Baxter State Park, is the northern terminus of the Appalachian Trail, which cuts across the northern sections of Piscataquis, Somerset, Franklin and Oxford Counties. It is one of the three highest peaks east of the Rockies and dominates a vast expanse of territory whose lakes and streams are famous among fishermen and whose forest depths are among the best hunting grounds in the State. While there are several entrances to this region from the south and east through adjoining Penobscot County, one of the most popular is by the auto road from Ripogenus Dam to Sourdnamunk Stream via Frost Pond and Harrington Lake, thence by trail to Kidney Pond or Daicey and thence by the Hunt Trail to Mount Katahdin.

Over the Appalachian Trail the hiker may visit some of the most beautiful spots in Piscataquis County, the well-marked route being so laid out that nightfall of each day finds the hiker at a camp where he can find good food and a comfortable bed.

South of Greenville is Shirley Mills, a lumbering and farming village and further on is Monson, a village perched high on a slate ridge where slate has been quarried for more than 70 years. The small mineral content of this slate makes it outstanding for use in the manufacture of electrical goods. Many brooks and streams nearby afford excellent trout fishing. Blanchard is a small town off the main route and on this upper end of the Piscataquis River.

The principal towns and villages in the southern part of the county follow the course of the Piscataquis River. Abbot Village, Parkman, Kingsbury and Wellington are small towns in the southwestern corner and are centers for nearby lumbering and farming activities. Guilford, on both sides of the river, is an active industrial and business community, whose chief manufactures are woolen and wood products. Sangerville also is a woolen center and agricultural village and is the birthplace of Sir Hiram Maxim, inventor of the machine gun, smokeless powder, pumps and other devices.

Dover-Foxcroft, shire town of the county, is the largest in population and is a business and industrial town, with woolen, canning and wood products mills, modern stores, schools, hotels, library and shaded residential streets. It is also the center for the recreational area around Sebec Lake, 13 miles long and one of the original homes of the landlocked salmon in Maine. Here salmon, bass and perch fishing is excellent. Lake Umbagog is a gem among Maine lakes, nestled at the foot of Borestone Mountain. The villages of Willimantic, Sebec Lake, Bowerbank, Sebec and Greeley's Landing are popular centers around Sebec Lake.

Milo, in whose town limits the outlet of Sebec Lake and Pleasant River join the Piscataquis, is an industrial, commercial and farming community. Here are woolen, wood product and excelsior mills. Car shops of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad are at adjoining Derby, a landscaped and "planned" community "way up in Maine". From Milo a road leads northeast to Lake Umbagog, at the foot of Schoodic Lake, noted for its trout fishing and the view of Mount Katahdin in the background.

North from Milo an excellent tarred road leads to Brownville and Brownville Junction, then a gravel road (Continued on Page 70) to a good airport and the Katahdin Iron Works. This road opens up a heretofore hard-to-get-to hunting and fishing country of wide renown. The Katahdin Iron Works is the site of an unused mine and smelting mill which at one time worked a bog of iron ore, a variety of hematite, found in the area at the foot of Ore Mountain. Deposits of pigments and copper and asbestos also have been found here. Some lumbering operations are now carried on there.

Nearby, reached only by trail, is the "Grand Canyon of the East", at what is known as the Gulf on the West Branch of Pleasant River. Here the stream is deeply entrenched in a slate canyon. Water falls, sheer walls, fantastic shapes and unusual rock formations make a scene of surpassing beauty. Trout fishing in the various waters is excellent.

North through the roadless forest from this region are Whitecap and Jo-Mary Mountains, the Jo-Mary Lakes and the northern section of Pemadumcook Lake on the West Branch of the Penobscot. The Appalachian Trail traverses this wilderness, which reaches to the southern limits of Baxter State Park and the Katahdin area.

Baxter State Park is a 112,945-acre wild life sanctuary, offering opportunities for mountain climbing of every description, for the study of wild life, geology, wild flowers and everything pertaining to the wilderness. Mountain trails, campsites and shelters harmonize with the unspoiled surroundings. It is the most wildly spectacular spot in the Eastern United States.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY

Androscoggin County

Androscoggin County

Small in area, but important for its industries, agriculture and convenience of recreational facilities, Androscoggin County is located in the inland heart of South Central Maine.

Its twin cities, Lewiston and Auburn, on opposite banks of the Androscoggin River, form a commercial population and travel center for a wide area in that section of the State that makes them second only to Greater Portland in size and economic importance. The twin cities have been called the "industrial heart" of Maine, for they contain the greatest concentration of shoe and textile mills in the State. In normal years these two activities rank second and third, respectively in the State's industrial economy.

Auburn, on the west bank of the river, is the shire town of the county and fourth largest city in the State. It has nearly a score of shoe factories, has extensive residential sections with many fine old homes and stately mansions and is the trading center for a rich farming area. It is a busy city with outstanding schools, an excellent public library founded by Andrew Carnegie, and an exemplary civic consciousness manifested by such citizens' groups as an active Chamber of Commerce, service clubs, agricultural organizations and others.

The Androscoggin Historical Society, which houses its reminders of pioneers in the courthouse at Auburn, has been established for many years and is steadily increasing its collection of valuable historical material. Auburn also is a supply center for sports goods of all kinds and is a favorite stopping and shopping place for many out-of-state sportsmen on their way to the better known hunting and fishing sections. Hiking, which is gaining more prominence in Maine every year, has been given impetus by the formation in Auburn of the Alpine Club.

Lewiston cotton and woolen textile mills give employment to thousands of people and provide a payroll on which the industrial prosperity of the city depends. It is the second largest city in Maine and is adequately equipped with good hotels, theaters, excellent department stores and other facilities usually found in a large commercial and industrial center.

Lewiston also is the home of Bates College, with an enrollment in normal years of nearly 700 students, and with a large registration for summer school courses. For more than three-quarters of a century Bates has been known best for the educators it has trained for service all over the world. Nearly half of its alumni are in the teaching profession and it ranks first among New England Colleges in the number of its graduates who are principals of New England secondary schools. Since the turn of the century it has been a pioneer in inter-collegiate and international debating, achieving enviable honors year after year. Its beautiful campus spreads over 75 level acres on which 26 buildings, mostly ivy-clad, stand amid shady elms, maples, lawns and gardens. A short walk from the campus leads to the summit of Mt. David, which commands panoramas of Bates, Lewiston-Auburn and the White Mountains more than 50 miles to the west.

Other outstanding buildings in Lewiston are the Sts. Peter and Paul Church, a massive, Gothic, cathedral-like structure built principally of Maine granite; Kora Shrine Temple with Harry Cochrane's famous Palestine murals; and the Lewiston Armory, seating 6,000 persons, which is used for large conventions, assemblies and sports events.

Lewiston Falls and Dam, best viewed from the North Bridge, the main artery connecting Lewiston and Auburn, provides a spectacular sight during Spring months. The granite dam increases the 40-foot natural fall of the river here by more than ten feet and diverts water into a mile-long canal supplying the various textile mills.

Both Lewiston and Auburn are constantly developing their parks and playgrounds and nearby golf courses, lakes and winter sports areas offer varied recreational facilities. Recent stocking has provided Lake Auburn, on the northern outskirts of the city, with square-tails, brown trout, Chinook salmon and perch, while many excellent nearby brooks provide good trout fishing. Taylor Pond, just west of Auburn, and Sabattus Pond, east of Lewiston, are favorite swimming, cottage and boating spots for twin-city residents.

In western Androscoggin County is the famous lake and resort area of Poland Spring, capped by the world-renowned Poland Spring Hotels. The Mansion House and Poland Spring House stand at the top of Ricker Hill, which commands a broad panorama of hills and lakes. The sunsets from Ricker Hill are one of the most beautiful sights in Maine. Grouped about the base of the hill, which has a world-famous golf course, are the five Range Ponds, with excellent fishing, boating and bathing facilities. Winter sports facilities also are excellent. Poland Spring also is the home of Poland water, which is shipped all over the world. The Spring House, with its gleaming marble and spotless metal interior, is visited annually by thousands of people.

Beyond Poland Spring are Tripp Lake and the southern end of Thompson Lake, which stretches into Cumberland and Oxford Counties. Both are popular resort and tourist centers, with excellent boating, fishing, hunting and water sports facilities.

Dairying, poultry raising, canning crops, apples and potatoes are the chief agricultural activities of Androscoggin County. Canning factories are located at Auburn, Poland, West Minot, Livermore Falls and Leeds. Turner, Turner Center, Durham and Greene also are centers of farming areas based on livestock, vegetables and orcharding.

Livermore and Livermore Falls, at the northern tip of the county, are agricultural and industrial centers, the latter having one of the largest paper mills in Maine, a famous foundry, a glove factory and a large cannery, besides numerous commercial establishments. Numerous small ponds and streams dot the area.

Lisbon and its business center, Lisbon Falls, is the site of the Worumbo Manufacturing Company, long famous for its men's coatings and other fine fabrics, a linoleum factory, and lumber mills. Mechanic Falls, on the western side of the county, is a commercial center for a pond and stream area and has several wood products plants.

The area of eastern Androscoggin County, reached through Wales, Webster, Sabattus, Greene, Leeds and East Livermore, adjoins the famous Kennebec Lakes Region and all of its streams, ponds and lakes including Androscoggin Lake, are well-known to fishermen, cottagers and vacationers.

Kennebec County

Three famous lake regions, beautifully, situated in a country of wooded, rolling hills and fertile farmlands on both sides of the majestic Kennebec River, are distinctive features of one of Maine's most attractive counties, Kennebec. Site of the State Capitol, Augusta, and covered with historic landmarks that played their part in the struggles of a young nation, Kennebec has been called the very heart of the Nation's Vacationland.

The City of Augusta occupies a large area on both sides of the river, whose sloping banks contain several picturesque parks and many historic shrines and monuments. The dome of the Capitol, the main structure built of Hallowell granite, rising above the tops of majestic oaks and elms, is visible for many miles up and down the river. From in front of the Capitol, facing eastward, the 20-acre State Park stretches down to the banks of the river, with thousands of trees, shrubs, an artificial pond and other landscaping features making it one of the most attractive in the State.

On the eastern bank of the river is historic Fort Western, built in 1754 as a protection against the Indians and recently restored as an historic shrine. The Kennebec Dam, just north of the main bridge across the river, supplies hydro-electric power for the city and its manufacturers. Here is the upper limit of tidewater on the Kennebec and, although 45 miles from the sea, a rise and fall of four feet with the tides is registered here.

Both the State House, with its Museum, Hall of Flags, and State Library and the Blaine House, residence of the Governor, are open to the public. Other points of interest include Lithgow Library, with an important collection of volumes and early Americana; Camp Keyes and the Augusta Airport on a high, treeless plateau nearly a square mile in area, from which a sweeping panorama of the countryside is obtained; and Ganeston Park of 475 wooded acres, where hiking, riding, picnicking and winter sports are enjoyed in the midst of a State Game Preserve and Bird Sanctuary.

On the western bank of the Kennebec below Augusta are Hallowell and Gardiner, with the neighboring town of Farmingdale. These are active industrial and shopping centers, with beautiful old homes and estates harking back to the days when sailing vessels by the hundreds carried the name of the Kennebec region to all parts of the world. Into the towns below Augusta lead roads from the southwestern corner of the county, where the towns of Litchfield and West Gardiner are centers of a farming and small lakes region containing summer camps and fishing, boating and vacationing facilities.

Directly west of Augusta is the famous Kennebec Lakes region, comprising some 200 square miles of rolling, farm-dotted landscape, which nature has filled with shimmering lakes and ponds, twenty of them joined by a network of murmuring streams. Larger lakes in this region include Cobbosseecontee, Annabessacook and Maranacook in the towns of Monmouth, Winthrop, Manchester, West Gardiner and Readfield. Laced by smooth highways revealing beauty at every turn, the Kennebec Lakes region lures thousands of pleasure seekers every season of the year. Cottages, cabins and hotels afford ample accommodations on the pine and spruce scented shores of the lakes. One town alone, Winthrop, has twelve lakes and ponds within its confines or on its borders.

Against the western edge of Kennebec County lies Androscoggin Lake, overlooked by Morrison Heights, in the town of Wayne, from which a broad panorama for many miles is obtainable. A host of other smaller lakes, almost too numerous to list, sing their captivating songs to the tourist. Romantic Echo Lake, Flying Pond and Parker Pond, beautiful Torsey Pond, historic Cochnewagan, Tacoma, Pocasset, Minnehonk, Little "Cobbossee" lakes, along with Lovejoy, Dexter, Berry, Wilson, Horseshoe, Pleasant, Sanborn, Jamies, Shed, Carleton and Narrow Ponds, all share in the glories of the Kennebec Lakes Region. Kents Hill, Fayette, Mount Vernon and Vienna, all in the northwestern part of the county, are shopping and business centers for their rich agricultural, recreational and lumbering region.

NORTH BELGRADE, MAINE

North of Augusta, through the towns of Sidney, Belgrade, Oakland and Rome is the famous Belgrade Lakes Region, with five of the seven lakes of the chain inside Kennebec County. Great Lake is the largest, spreading out at the center of the group. Around it are the other isle-dotted lakes, including Long, Salmon, Magrath, East and Messalonskee.

The Belgrade Lakes Region has long been famous for its smallmouthed bass fishing and the size and quantity of these gamy fish make these waters a topic of conversation among the Nation's anglers. Chinook and native landlocked salmon and trout and other lake and stream fish make record catches commonplace.

Within easy motoring distance of the shopping centers at Waterville and Augusta, the Belgrade Lakes region offers a wide range of accommodations from smart hotels and camps to simple housekeeping cottages. Some of the best canoeing in the State is offered by these closely connecting lakes and convenient streams make long portages unnecessary. The region also abounds with game and birds and deer hunting is exceptional. In the winter recreational facilities are numerous and diversified, including skiing, snowshoeing, ice-boating, tobogganing, skating and ice-fishing.

Waterville, in Northern Kennebec County, is an elm-shaded city of homes, large industries and a modern commercial center. It is a city rich in historic associations dating back to the time when the Indians had a village there and across the river in Winslow. It is also the site of Colby College, established in 1818, which at present is being relocated on a beautiful 500-acre campus on Mayflower Hill. A $3,000,000 modern college plant is expected to be completed soon. Coburn Classical Institute also is a famous Waterville educational institution.

Modern hotels, department stores, theaters and other urban facilities make Waterville a convenient stopping place for the traveling public and from it main highways radiate to the surrounding section of the State. Textiles, lumber, fiber board and garments predominate in its industrial activities. Northeast of Waterville are the farming centers of Winslow, Albion, Benton and Clinton, all in an area where wooded hills and many streams are conducive to good hunting and fishing.

In Eastern Kennebec County is the China Lake area, containing the towns of Vassalboro, with the famous Oak Grove Seminary for Girls and the Natanis Wild Life Sanctuary; China, Windsor, Chelsea, Randolph and Pittston. These are farming and lumbering communities which serve as shopping centers for vacationers and tourists in the lake area. At Togus, in Chelsea, is the U. S. Veterans' Facility, a 1,752-acre reservation for the treatment of disabled veterans.

China Lake is the largest of this chain of lakes and ponds and contains some of Maine's most beautiful landlocked salmon and small mouth black bass. Three Mile Pond and Webber Pond, smaller but none the less beautiful, peacefully ripple in the woodlands on this coastal side of the Kennebec.

Thus, with its three great lakes regions, the Belgrades, Kennebecs and China, and its location on the mighty Kennebec River, with a host of tributary streams, Kennebec County justifies its title of "The Heart of Vacationland". The extensive scope of its accommodations, its excellent roads and its highly-developed recreational facilities make Kennebec truly the County of Vacations.

Sagadahoc County

Sagadahoc County, next eastward along the coast from Cumberland County, is the smallest in area in the State, yet it is somewhat typical of Maine coastal counties from here on eastward, which feature rugged peninsulas jutting far out into the coastal sea area, with many inlets and innumerable small bays and harbors where yachts and other motor and sailing craft find snug havens.

The central portion of Sagadahoc County contains Merrymeeting Bay, the junction of the Kennebec and Androscoggin Rivers, and world famous for its duck hunting and water-fowling. Along the shores of Merrymeeting Bay are hundreds of cottages, farms and summer homes where vacationers and duck hunters annually visit for sport and relaxation. West and north of the Bay are the farming towns and shopping centers of Topsham, Bowdoin, Bowdoinham and Richmond and the industrial town of Pejepscot, with a large pulp and paper mill. Bowdoinham, in the center of the Merrymeeting Bay Area, is a popular rendezvous for sportsmen and a trading center. It is also the scene of a new winter sports development.

The City of Bath, further south along the Kennebec, is famous as the site of the Bath Iron Works, whose destroyers rate among the best in the service of the U. S. Navy. Famous yachts, fishing boats and other craft built in peacetime years have made the name of this company famous throughout the shipbuilding world. Bath is also a commercial and business center for the county and roads lead from it down to the many resorts and vacation centers along the coast on both sides of the mouth of the Kennebec.

Route 209 below Bath passes through Winnegance, a suburb of Bath, where a tide mill until recently was used to power a lumber mill. This old structure is the primitive forerunner of similar tide-water mills and power projects, such as the suspended Passamaquoddy project in Eastern Maine. Phippsburg is a village center for a picturesque area of rugged coast, sand dunes and wooded knolls. From it lead the roads to the Sebasco Estates, a widely-known modern coastal resort; Westpoint, Small Point, Parker Head and Popham Beach.

This whole area is a favorite picnicking and vacationing territory, rich in early American history and before that a favorite summering place of the Indians, who left many of their relics scattered around. Boating, bathing, and deep sea fishing combine with golfing, riding and other land sports to make this section an attractive resort area. The remnants of old forts and the earliest of American settlements at the mouth of the Kennebec add to the historic interest of the region.

From Woolwich, across the river from Bath, Route 127 runs down across a group of heavily wooded islands forming the eastern side of the mouth of the Kennebec and with Sheepscot Bay and River on its easterly side. Here are Arrowsic, Georgetown, Five Islands and Robinhood, small farming and fishing villages with many cottages and shore outing spots where small boats put in from the neighboring coastal region.

Phipps Point, overlooking beautiful Hockamock Bay, is the site of numerous fine summer homes. It was the birthplace of the great adventurer for whom it was named. Phipps was at one time Provincial Governor and later was the first American knighted at the English court in recognition for having brought treasure taken from old Spanish galleons sunk in the Caribbean Sea. In this town is the oldest Congregational Church of the Kennebec River, built nearly 200 years ago.

Many small islands, some of them privately-owned, lie off this section of the coast and numerous artists and sculptors of note annually summer in this region. Five Islands has an excellent harbor and has been the frequent rendezvous of the Boston and other yacht clubs. Bay Point and MacMahan Island also are favorites of summer visitors.

LINCOLN COUNTY

Lincoln County

With its coastal terrain jutting lacy fingers of wooded headlands and islands into the Atlantic and its inland regions composed of rolling farm lands and pine and spruce bordered lakes and streams, Lincoln County has become one of Maine's best known vacationing areas.

In early times one of the favorite locales of Indians, traders, settlers and even pirates, its coastal towns and inland lakes are today the goal of thousands of summer visitors and vacationers, many of whom own their own cottages and camps, and nearly all of whom return year after year to the bracing coastal spots or the canoeing and fishing relaxation of the lakes and small rivers.

From U. S. Route One, which cuts across the county from Wiscasset to Waldoboro, a network of excellent roads leads both to the coastal villages and resorts and northward through a farming and lake country where streams, brooks and ponds cut through the dense forests.

Wiscasset, on the westerly edge of the county, is the shire town and lies on the west bank of the wide Sheepscot River. Its beautiful old homes, mostly built by shipping merchants and sea captains, is one of the most charming towns along the Maine coast. It is the rendezvous of artists and writers who have been fascinated by its interesting atmosphere and the historical associations of its show places, many of which are open to the public. From Wiscasset roads lead north to Dresden, on the East Bank of the Kennebec, and to Alna, Head Tide and Whitefield, all on the Sheepscot River and trading centers of a large farming and camping area where small lakes and wooded streams make fishing and canoeing attractive sports.

Across the river is North Edgecomb, with its historic old fort and the famous Marie Antoinette House, which legend says was built for the royal personage who never occupied it. South on Route 27 is the pretty village of Edgecomb, where part of Captain Kidd's treasure is supposed to be buried.

From Boothbay, an important summer recreational center, other roads lead to such popular resorts as Boothbay Harbor, Ocean Point, Spruce Point, Southport, West Southport and Newagen, all of them busy places in the summer from the influx of thousands of summer residents, cottagers and vacationers. The Boothbay Harbor Region is becoming more popular every year and with its many bays and harbors it offers excellent facilities for fishing, bathing, boating and other water sports. Its first class hotels, tourist homes and cabins provide attractive accommodations of every type.

Squirrel Island is one of the oldest resorts in this section and is the summer home of college professors and others nationally known in literature, the arts and business. Another vacation island off shore is Damaris-cove, while ten miles out is Gibraltar-like Monhegan, goal of yachtsmen and turning point of yacht race course. A remarkable spruce area in the bowl-like center of the island is one of its unusual features.

The U. S. Fish Hatchery and Aquarium is located outside of Boothbay Harbor at McKown's Point and is visited annually by thousands of tourists. Propagation and conservation work of the Maine Department of Sea and Shore Fisheries also is carried on at Boothbay Harbor.

Westport is the largest of the islands in Sheepscot Bay on the Sagadahoc County side and this area also is a favorite with boaters and vacationers.

The wide Damariscotta River, one of the most beautiful tidewater rivers in Maine, virtually bisects the county from north to south and leads into big Damariscotta Lake, widely-known for its splendid sporting camps and camps for boys and girls patronized by groups from many states. Served by the towns of Nobleboro and Jefferson, this lake area is one of the most attractive in Maine and is a favorite with residents of the shore areas to the south. All of Lincoln County's lakes and ponds are popular spots for bass, salmon and trout fishing.

The twin towns of Newcastle and Damariscotta furnish the shopping and banking center of the county. Both are pleasant little villages of many fine homes and unusual historical aspects and both are centers of small boat building. Here also each Spring may be seen the annual run of the alewives, when ten of thousands of the fish fight their way up the river to the spawning grounds in the Damariscotta Lake region. Nearby are the famous Indian shell heaps, where successive generations of Indians heaped the shells from their summer encampments.

South from Damariscotta roads lead to the eastern arm of Lincoln County jutting out to sea. One road branches to Walpole, South Bristol and Christmas Cove, so named by Capt. John Smith in 1614. Another leads past Pemaquid and Biscay Ponds to the shores of Muscongus Bay and Pemaquid Point. Pemaquid, Pemaquid Beach, New Harbor and Pemaquid Point, all in the town of Bristol, are little fishing and resort villages on one of the boldest headlands on the coast. The old round fort, a reproduction of the tower of Fort William Henry and the fine old fort house take one back to Indian times, when three other forts rose and fell on the same spot. Round Pond, sloping down to a small cove on Muscongus Bay and nearby Loud's island are picturesque for their fishing and boating activities.

North along the shore of Muscongus Bay are Medomak and Bremen, on the Medomak River, both of them fishing and resort villages, and Waldoboro, a commercial and small industry center. Deep-sea fishing and fly fishing for mackerel and pollock are popular with visitors and residents alike. Gamy striped bass and large tunas also are caught in nearby waters. On Hog Island, off Bremen is the Audubon Nature Camp, where people from all over the United States come to study at the Todd Wild Life Sanctuary. The National Audubon Society is here engaged in a program for the preservation of wild life.

North Whitefield, Coopers Mills and Somerville, in the northern part of the county, are inland villages of rural attractiveness, with several nearby lakes and ponds.

Knox County

Knox County

Mountains, lakes and seacoast, plus its location on the western side of Penobscot Bay, Maine's maritime scenic wonderland, give Knox County the natural advantages which have made it for many years a favorite resort area for vacationers and tourists.

Along its broken shoreline, studded with innumerable coves, bays and inlets and on the many large islands standing well out into broad Penobscot Bay, the large summer estates of famous families and modern hotels look out upon the picturesque fishing villages, neat homes and cozy cottages of a year-round and summer population that has come to love that section of the State with an attachment that only close association with nature's wonders can bring.

Knox County is rich too in its historical interests, for here generations of farming and fishing folks are rooted, as well as the descendants of sailing and shipping families who still keep the traditions and mementoes of a day when the clipper ship and the schooner ruled the waves.

U. S. Route No. One enters Knox County from Waldoboro and from it branch many excellent lateral roads curving scenically through tall stands of pine and spruce to the coastal resorts and past rolling fields and meadows into the farming and lake regions.

From South Warren Route 220 traverses the peninsula formed by Muscongus Bay and the Georges River, leading to the resort areas and islands off Friendship and Cushing. Cushing has many summer cottages along the Georges River, which here is an inlet of the sea, and many interesting Indian relics are found annually.

Friendship is one of the most charming unspoiled seaport towns in Maine, the birthplace of the famous Friendship sloop and the home of typically coastal people. Deep sea fishing, casting and trolling for the various salt water species, such as mackerel, cunner, pollock and silver hake, shore clambakes and picnics are popular pastimes.

At Warren, center of a fine farming region, is the Knox State Arboretum, with a famous collection of Maine flora, birds, marine specimens and Indian relics. Thomaston is noted historically as the home of General Henry Knox, Washington's chief of staff and Secretary of War, and his beautiful mansion, Montpelier, is one of the show places of Maine and open to the public. Thomaston also is the site of one of the largest cement and limestone plants in New England.

Rockland is the shire town and trading center for the county, with modern hotels, stores and banks. Its fine harbor is the port of call for all kinds of craft and from it steamers ply between the mainland and the islands in Penobscot Bay. Fishing, shipbuilding, shipping and limestone quarrying are important in its industrial activities. Here, too is the birthplace of Edna St. Vincent Millay and a cultural and civic consciousness among the residents that finds expression in numerous clubs, societies and organizations. During the war it has also been an important center of Naval activity.

From Rockland and Thomaston main highways lead southward to the shore areas fronting on the southwestward side of Penobscot Bay, a resort area containing outstanding hotels, summer estates, cottages and fishing villages. Owl's Head, South Thomaston, Spruce Head, St. George, Long Cove, Tenants Harbor and Port Clyde are picturesque fishing and resort villages in the coves and inlets along the shore and small boats ply between them and the islands off shore.

North of Rockland is Glen Cove, another vacationing center, and Rockport, with a V-shaped waterfront on Goose River that has been landscaped by Mrs. Mary Louise Zimbalist.

North of Rockport is Camden, one of the loveliest of all Maine coastal towns, where towering mountains rise almost from the ocean's edge to a height of more than 1,500 feet. These Camden Hills, Mount Battie, Megunticook, Bald and Ragged, were marvelled at by Champlain and Capt. John Smith because of their beautiful setting on the shores of Penobscot Bay. Here a State Park recreation area is being developed, containing picnic and camping sites, nature trails and ski trails. Citizens of Camden started this development with the Camden Bowl, in which events are held both summer and winter. Eventual size of the park will be nearly 6,000 acres between Lake Megunticook and the seashore. The Sagamore Picnic Area, just off Route No. One and on the seashore, contains 20 acres and already is rated as one of the finest in New England.

Not only have the year-round and summer residents of Camden taken particular interest in landscaping, both in the town and along the surrounding shore and countryside but in the Summer baskets of flowers decorate the lamp-posts in the business section and create an atmosphere of beauty and charm that is found nowhere else in the world. A notable group of musicians also make their summer homes in Camden and the beautiful Bok Amphitheater, seating 1,500 persons in a landscaped setting of trees, shrubs and plants and the re-modelling and redecorating of the Camden Opera House, also have been special projects of Mrs. Zimbalist.

Both Camden and Rockland also are headquarters for schooner cruises, which are gaining in popularity every year.

Among the larger islands in Penobscot Bay reached by boat from Rockland and other Knox County towns are North Haven and Vinalhaven, both fashionable resort islands, Isle au Haut, Matinicus and Criehaven, whose primitive charm is well known to lovers of nature.

Inland Knox County, with its network of lakes, streams and farmlands, contains the towns of Union, Washington, Appleton and Hope. These are farming and orcharding communities in a region of lakes, streams and mountains, with excellent fishing, canoeing, hiking and mountain climbing. Appleton is the center of the apple region and also has a State Fish Rearing Station. Megunticook Lake, Crawford Pond, Seven Tree Pond, Sennebec Lake and Washington Pond are but a few of the many bodies of water that dot this area like gems.

Waldo County

Waldo County

On the western shores of Penobscot Bay and the mouth of the Penobscot River, stretching from the blue Camden Hills to the head of ice-free winter navigation at Winterport, Waldo County in south central Maine comprises an area of 724 square miles extending back into an inland farm and lake country bordered by Knox, Lincoln, Kennebec, Somerset and Penobscot Counties.

Focal point in the county is the City of Belfast, a famous seaport town and hub of a network of roads radiating to all sections of the county. On the seaward side, Belfast is likewise a hub for steamer and small boat traffic from the islands to the east and southeast in Penobscot Bay and thus serves as a shopping and commercial center for an area within a great land and sea circle from the city center.

Along the shores of the bay and river are a series of other seaport, fishing and resort towns, while back from the coast is a large farming, lake and mountain region, where apples, potatoes, vegetable raising, poultry farming and dairying combine with lumbering and resort activities to provide a healthy, economic livelihood for Waldo County residents. Its shoreside quarries have provided granite for paving blocks and buildings in some of the largest cities of the Country.

U. S. Route One enters Waldo County from Camden, skirting the shore through Lincolnville and Northport, both favorite resort towns for surrounding areas. From Lincolnville a ferry services Islesboro, largest island on this section of the coast, with an exclusive summer colony and a yachting center that make it the richest town in the county. An auxiliary road from Camden, Route 137, follows the northern side of Megunticook lake to Lincolnville Center and Camden, passing through a beautiful countryside area.

Belfast is situated on a side-hill sloping gradually to the shores of Belfast Bay and the Passagassawaukeag River, its highest points commanding a sweeping view over the island-studded waters of Penobscot Bay. Many fine old mansions sheltered by stately trees recall the days of past mercantile and seafaring glory. A 15-acre city park is directly on the shores of the Bay and has modern facilities for trailers, camping, swimming and other activities. The city's excellent hotels and shopping facilities, its quiet streets and nearness to all forms of recreational opportunities make it a center for visitors in this section of the State.

North of Belfast is Searsport, home of many sea captains and ocean shipping point for the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. Its wartime shipping record has been important. Here also is the Penobscot Marine Museum, the most valuable of its kind in the State.

Stockton Springs, with its nearby Fort Point, a charming retreat for tourists, and Prospect, on the western approach to the Waldo-Hancock Bridge over the Penobscot, are village centers for nearby summer estates and resorts. Near Prospect is Fort Knox, a massive structure of Mt. Waldo granite, commanding one of the most beautiful views on the Penobscot River. On the road to Frankfort are the surface quarries of Mt. Waldo, where countless tons of fine granite have been cut out of the mountainside. Frankfort is a riverside town, once an important seaport, overshadowed by Mt. Waldo.

Winterport is an historic town of many fine homes, including the Blaisdell homestead, built in 1789 and designed by Christopher Wren, famous English architect. As the head of winter navigation on the Penobscot it was once an important shipbuilding community and seaport and these activities still are carried on to a limited extent.

One of the main roads leading into Belfast from the west is Route 3 from Augusta. This traverses the Waldo County towns of Palermo, Montville, Liberty, Searsmont and Belmont. Belmont's Tilden Pond is a popular summer resort, while Lake Quantabacook between Searsmont and North Searsmont offers many cottages and charming scenery in every direction. Ben Ames Williams has his farm home near the village and does much of his writing here. Liberty, on Georges Lake, is the site of the 3,793-acre St. George State Park, which stretches over into adjoining Montville and is a favorite resort. Palermo is near Sheepscot Lake, making it an ideal place to fish, rest and enjoy life in the open.

Waldo, Brooks, Knox, Morrill, Freedom, Thorndike, Unity, Troy and Burnham are on Route 137 and connecting roads and in an area serviced by the historic and unique Belfast and Moosehead Lake Railway. All are inland towns that have rivers, lakes, streams and groves that appeal to those in search of recreation and rest. Unity Lake is one of the best black bass and brown trout fishing waters in this section of Maine.

Swanville is located on Swan Lake, noted for its salmon fishing and offers fine accommodations for tourists. Monroe and Jackson are farming and lumbering communities where tourists may rest at farm homes and enjoy the delicious foods that Maine women always seem to know how to cook best.

HANCOCK COUNTY

Hancock County

Hancock County

It was inevitable in the scheme of things that when the scenic wonderland that is known as the State of Maine was fashioned by nature there would be one region that would stand out above all others in majesty and beauty—one that would come as close as anything else in this world to conveying to the mind and senses of man the perfection and glory of pure Creation.

Capped by the wild grandeur of Mount Desert Island, termed by Henry Van Dyke "the most beautiful island in the world", a far-flung coastal area of islands, bays, beaches and bold headlands reaching from Castine on Penobscot Bay to Schoodic Point on the East for nearly a century has drawn thousands of summer visitors from all parts of the world.

This archipelago of islands, island-sheltered waterways and lake-like bays presents a panorama of majestic beauty and infinite scenic variety that defies description. On Mount Desert Island alone eighteen beautiful mountains literally rise out of the sea, with twenty-six lakes and ponds in the valleys between. On all sides evergreen forests stretch to the sea, or to the sheer cliffs where the sometimes wild surf flings ocean spray high into the air. In its center deep Somes Sound forms the only natural fjord on the whole Atlantic Coast.

Twenty-two square miles of Mount Desert and Schoodic Point, across the entrance to Frenchman's Bay, form famous Acadia National Park, the first National Park east of the Mississippi and the only one on the coast. Land and sea, woodland, lake and mountain—all are represented here in remarkable concentration. It has become the home of land and water birds of many species and deer and beaver have become numerous and are often in evidence.

Motor roads of great beauty traverse the park and surrounding areas and connect with Bar Harbor on the north and Seal Harbor and Northeast Harbor, resorts on the southern shore. Rising from the Bar Harbor road, a marvel of highway engineering winds a hard-surfaced road to the summit of Cadillac Mountain (1,528), the highest point on the eastern coast, where a parking overlook commands a breath-taking view of the surrounding ocean, islands and countryside.

Free camping grounds, a nature guide service with varied daily programs, museums such as at Sieur de Monts Spring and at Islesford on Little Cranberry Island, and adequate information facilities are but a few of the many aids to the visitor and tourist. Outside of the park area, at Bar Harbor and the various villages on the island, such as Seal Harbor, Northeast Harbor, Southwest Harbor, Somesville, Manset, Seawall, McKinley, Tremont, Bernard, West Tremont, Seal Cove, Center and Pretty Marsh are accommodations ranging from high-class summer hotels to rooming houses, cottages and restaurants.

Schoodic Point, a part of Acadia National Park although across the entrance to Frenchman's Bay, juts further into the open sea than any other point of rock on the Atlantic Coast. From it a magnificent rock headland rises over 400 feet, commanding an unbroken view eastward to the Bay of Fundy and westward to the Mount Desert Mountains. Schoodic Point is reached from the delightful resort towns of Winter Harbor, Birch Harbor and Prospect Harbor on a scenic state and park road that follows the shoreline.

Ellsworth is the shire town and trading center for Hancock County and the railroad terminus for Bar Harbor and other Mount Desert Island resorts. From it excellent roads lead to all parts of the county. It is a city of gracious old homes and attractive modern business buildings, many of the latter built after the great fire in 1933 which wiped out the Main Street section. Union River flows through the center of the city and from the bridge a 60-foot falls is visible.

One of Ellsworth's show places open to the public is the famous Black Mansion, with priceless colonial antiques and furniture, rare books, dishes and glassware. It was donated to the county as an historic shrine and summer teas are held in the gardens.

From Ellsworth Route 15 leads through the picturesque village of Surry to beautiful Bluehill, home of the famous Rowantrees Pottery and birthplace of Mary Ellen Chase; thence to Bluehill Falls with its Indian Shell Heaps, and to Brooklin, Sedgwick and Sargentville to Deer Isle and Stonington. This trip loops around one of the most beautiful and interesting jagged peninsulas on the Maine coast, skirting lovely Bluehill Bay. It is an unspoiled summer resort area with many fine summer estates and cottages. Deer Isle and Stonington are special favorites of tourists and summer residents because of their primitive beauty and scenic charms, as is also Long Island in Bluehill Bay.

Along Eggemoggin Reach and the Penobscot Bay side of the peninsula are Herricks, Cape Rosier, Brooksville, Harborside and Castine, all of them pretty villages with attractive homes and noted as summer resort centers with marvelous views westward across Penobscot Bay. The Brooksvilles, South, West and North are picturesque in their rural simplicity and popular with summer visitors. Castine is rich with history and romantic associations through the Indian, French and Revolutionary Wars. Many of its old houses with famous doorways date back as far as 1765. It is the site of the Maine Maritime Academy. Penobscot, North Castine and Orland are attractive villages of historic interest attracting their annual quota of summer visitors. At East Orland, on the shores of Alamoosook Lake is a U. S. Fish Hatchery for the propagation of salmon and trout, with which the lakes of Hancock County abound.

Bucksport, on the east bank of the Penobscot opposite Prospect, is the site of the Maine Seaboard Paper Company, one of the most modern newsprint plants in the world.

Dedham, Otis and Lucerne-in-Maine on Phillips Lake are on the road into Hancock County from Bangor, traversing lake and stream territory which includes Branch and Green Lakes, both popular fishing and boating areas.

East from Ellsworth are Trenton, Lamoine, Hancock, Sullivan, Sorrento and Gouldsboro, all along the shores of Frenchman's Bay and famous as fishing and resort centers.

North of Ellsworth roads lead to an extensive inland lake region which includes Graham, Spectacle, Niatous and a host of lesser lakes and ponds interlaced with streams and brooks where sportsmen can find more than enough of bass, pickerel, trout and landlocked salmon. This area is served by such towns and villages as Franklin, Eastbrook, Waltham, Mariaville, Amherst and Aurora, through which connecting roads open up a large fishing and hunting region that is among the best in the State.

WASHINGTON COUNTY

Washington County

Washington County, on Maine's and the Nation's easternmost border, aptly has been called the Sunrise County of the U. S. A. Although its coastal region was one of the first to be explored and settled in Maine, its 2,528 square miles, consisting mostly of woods, lakes and streams, contain extensive areas where the human foot has but infrequently trod. As a result it contains some of the most notable hunting and fishing territory in the State, with deer, bear, small game and game birds in profusion and sport fish of unusual size up to the king of all rod and reel fighters, the Atlantic salmon.

With an abundance of forests, fisheries, agricultural lands and waterpower, Washington County is an area rich in raw materials and yet with tremendous room for developments. It is the center of the sardine canning industry in the United States; its broad coastal plains produce enormous quantities of the world's best blueberries, where seventy per cent of the world's packed supply is processed; its fertile soil is the basis for extensive potato, livestock and poultry raising; and lumbering, pulp and paper have been important industries for many decades.

Calais and Eastport are the only cities in the county, which also contains forty-five other organized townships.

Calais is situated in the beautiful St. Croix River Valley, with an international bridge across the river to St. Stephen, N. B. Collaboration between the two communities is world-famous, with an interchange of trade, commerce and essential municipal service. Calais is a trading and manufacturing center for the area, as well as a transportation hub. It has several small hotels and tourist homes, fine retail stores and it taps an extensive and famous recreational area of large lakes, forests and streams.

Eastport is the most easterly city in the United States, situated on Moose Island and connected with the mainland by bridge. It is at the entrance to the great Passamaquoddy Bay area, with a large and deep harbor and has long been known as the center of the sardine canning industry of the United States. Processing and shipping of all other seafoods, as well as other industries, such as pearl essence, fertilizer, boat-building, cans and many minor business activities make it a lively industrial and trading center.

Eastport is also the site of Quoddy Village, headquarters of the famous project to harness the ocean tides for electric power. The tides rise and fall 18 to 27 feet in this area. Dormant for more than ten years, efforts are now being made to revive the giant project as an international undertaking.

Lubec, across the entrance to Cobscook Bay from Eastport, is the most easterly town in the United States and West Quoddy Head Light, at East Lubec, is the most easterly point of land in the Nation. Lubec also is a sardine, fish processing and industrial center, with a fine retail section serving its residential area. Near Lubec are old lead mines and other mineral deposits set in a rugged coastal topography with many offshore islands.

Lubec and Eastport flank the three-mile entrance to Cobscook Bay, a large, sharply indented ocean basin ringed by State Route 189 and U. S. Route One. The distance around the western shores of Cobscook Bay from Lubec to Eastport is some forty miles. For scenic beauty, both Lubec and Eastport are situated where the eye can encompass vast expanses of blue water and islands in Quoddy Bay. From the hilltops are magnificent views of New Brunswick, and across the giant Bay of Fundy, the distant shores of Nova Scotia.

The U. S. Weather Bureau officials rate the summer climate in this area as the finest in the Nation and the winter temperature the same as Boston. Mosquitoes, black flies and hay fever are non-existent here and places of interest, historic spots and scenic variety are numerous.

Clockwise on the road-circle from Lubec to Eastport are West Lubec, North Trescott, Whiting, with a famous old church and cemetery; Dennysville, on the swiftly flowing Dennys River, famous for its Atlantic salmon; West Pembroke and Pembroke, with sardine and blueberry canning plants; and Perry, where a stone monument marks the exact midway point between the Equator and North Pole. Offshore in the St. Croix River is Dohet Island, where De Monts and Champlain and their company spent the winter of 1604, the first white settlement in America north of Florida. Perry is also the site of the Passamaquoddy Indian Reservation, one of only two such sites in New England. The other is the Penobscot Reservation at Old Town.

Robbinston also is on Route One between Perry and Calais and is at the mouth of the St. Croix River. The rocks and sandy beaches in this area are tinged with red, creating a striking colorama.

Inland from Route One, State Highway 191 cuts north-south from Baring to East Machias, skirting the southern end of Meddybemps Lake, Cathance Lake, Rocky Lake and Hadley Lake. It passes through the villages of Meddybemps, Grove, Cooper and Jacksonville. Offshoots go through Charlotte and Ayers to West Pembroke; and through Marion to Dennysville. These Maine's varied recreational interests bring to the State $115,000,000 annually.

Maine is truly The Land of Remembered Vacations and the VACATIONLAND of the Nation.

roads traverse a lake and forest country, where Atlantic salmon come up the coastal streams and lake salmon, trout and togue fishing are spectacular.

Another side road, along the southern shore between East Machias and Lubec passes through Cutler, with one of the most beautiful small harbors in the United States.

Westward from East Machias to the Hancock County Line, the coast of Washington County is indented with many deep bays, whose peninsulas and islands make it one of the most rugged and picturesque sections of the Maine coast. Machias Bay, Starboard, at the coastal tip of Machiasport, Roque Bluffs, Englishman's Bay, Chandler's Bay, Jonesport, West Jonesport, Beals, Addison, Pleasant Bay, Harrington, Ripley Neck, Milbridge, Wyman, on Narraguagus Bay, Pigeon Hill Bay, Petit Manan Point, Dyer Bay, Dyer Neck and Steuben—all are names and places in this entrancing coastal area where lumbering, fishing and the recreational industry are an important means of livelihood in a setting of grandeur and beauty.

Slightly inland the larger towns of Machias, county seat and shopping center, Jonesboro, Centerville, Whitneyville, Columbia Falls, Harrington and Cherryfield are pretty villages on rivers which cut into the coastal plain.

Cherryfield, on the Narraguagus River; Harrington, on a coastal river and the center of forty-six different trout fishing streams; Columbia Falls, on the Pleasant River; and Whitneyville on the Machias River all are centers for the "king of game fish", the Atlantic salmon. They also are points from which excellent fishing and hunting grounds in the beautiful forests back from the coast may be reached.

From Cherryfield starts beautiful "Cherryfield Woods Road", State Route 193, which follows the Narraguagus River north through Deblois to Beddington. Here Route 9 cuts across the center of Washington County from west to east. This is the famous "Air Line" road, mecca of deer hunters and fishermen, tapping the Mopang Lakes, Pleasant River, Machias River, Chain Lakes, Crawford Lake and Pocomoonshine Lakes areas, with their villages of Wesley, Pokey, Crawford, Alexander and Baileyville, where Route 9 joins U. S. Route One between Baring and Woodland. This is the "heart" of the Washington County wilderness, famous for fishing, hunting and bird shooting.

Cutting across the center of the county, the famous Grand Lakes chain reaching up into Penobscot County is teeming with togue, trout, salmon, pickerel and other gamy fish, making it the Mecca annually for thousands of sportsmen. Connecting Grand Lake and Big Lake is Grand Lakes Stream, a wide three-mile stretch of rapid water known to all experienced fishing enthusiasts.

North of Calais is Woodland, site of the St. Croix Paper Company; Princeton, gateway to the Grand Lakes area; Waite and Talmadge, in the heart of a great hunting and fishing area; Topsfield, Brookton, Eaton and Danforth, all on U. S. Route One traversing the northern section of the county. Vanceboro is the gateway to the Spednic and Chiputneticook Lakes area.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY

Penobscot County

Penobscot County is a great diversified farming, industrial and recreational county in East Central Maine, bisected by Maine's largest river, the Penobscot, and containing the third largest city in the State, Bangor. The southern part of the county contains important agricultural and industrial areas, while the northern part extends into the forest areas of Northern Maine, with pulp, paper, lumbering and potato growing operations vying with hunting and fishing in economic importance.

Hub of the County is Bangor, "Queen City" of Maine, and the commercial and financial center for the northern and eastern section of the State. Sixty miles from the sea at beautiful Penobscot Bay, it is the head of ocean navigation on the Penobscot, site of an immense air base, junction of U. S. Routes One and Two, terminal of several railroads and connecting lines, and starting point for travel to Aroostook County, Mt. Desert Island, Mt. Katahdin, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and to Moosehead Lake and the west from Eastern Maine.

The site of Bangor, at the junction of Kenduskeag Stream and the Penobscot, was an important Indian rendezvous before Champlain landed there in 1604 in his search for the fabulous city of Norumbega. Since then it has passed through some of the most colorful historic periods of any city in Maine, a meeting place of lumbermen, hunters, fishermen, trappers, settlers, traders and mariners of many nationalities. A century ago it was the leading lumber port in the world and decades later still ranked second.

Today Bangor is a beautiful city of modern stores, hotels and offices, with stately residences on wide, shaded streets and with scenic parks and parkways. It is a center of culture, education and religion, with splendid schools of all types, a famous theological seminary, patronage of music and the arts, an important public library, and various museums, theaters, and exhibits. Eight miles from Bangor, at Orono, is the University of Maine, with colleges of Arts and Sciences, Engineering, Forestry and Agriculture.

Although Bangor is primarily a commercial center, there are numerous diversified industries both there and across the river in Brewer, the products including pulp, paper, wood products, wood tools, machinery, snowplows, stoves, furnaces, building material, metal products, brick, cigars, fish, meat and agricultural packs, clothing, mattresses, sportsman's equipment and furs.

The Bangor Salmon Pool, opposite beautiful Grotto Cascade Park with a 45-foot cascade, is known throughout the world. Here, in May and June, gamy 10 to 30 pound Atlantic salmon fight their way up the falls of the Penobscot River to spawn. By custom the first salmon taken from this pool each year is presented to the President of the United States.

Queen City of the East...

Bangor, the gateway to northern and eastern Maine, is located on the west bank of the Penobscot River only a few miles from the Atlantic Ocean. First settled in 1769, and incorporated as a city in 1834, it has now become a prosperous and progressive community with approximately 36,000 inhabitants. It is served by all methods of modern transportation and has long been recognized as the financial and commercial center for the constantly growing eastern and northern sections of Maine.

Bangor offers exceptional educational advantages, and Bangor's high school ranks with the finest in New England. In addition to the public schools, there are John Bapst high school, parochial, private and commercial schools. The University of Maine is in Orono, eight miles from Bangor.

It is possible to drive by automobile within an hour to many of Maine's beautiful lakes, streams, brooks, mountains, and to the seashore where recreation awaits all members of your family. Because of the many fine hotels and restaurants within Bangor, it has for many years served as the headquarters of numerous hunting and fishing parties from practically every section of the country.

Bangor is proud of its many fine churches, parks, and theatres; two daily newspapers, a morning and evening; and four radio stations furnishing complete facilities for advertising publicity, and emanation of news.

Bangor, in the heart of Vacationland, invites you to come for a visit or come here to live.

MAINE TEMPERATURE

The average temperature during the daytime periods of July, August and September is about 70 degrees—sometimes it runs well up into the eighties, with ninety degrees on an average of three times a year, according to weather bureau records.

It always cools off after the sun goes down and there is scarcely a night that one or two blankets are not needed even in the summer.

fan out into a rolling hill and lake country where fertile farm lands yield rich harvests of potatoes, hay, fruit, poultry, dairy and cannery products. Many towns in this region contain small industries based on wood products, woolens, leather and metal products. Such towns include Hampden, Newburg, Dixmont, Hermon, Carmel, Etna, Plymouth, Glenburn, Kenduskeag, Levant, Stetson, Hudson, Corinth, Exeter, Corinna, Bradford, Charleston, Garland and Dexter. All contain excellent ponds and streams where trout and bass are plentiful. Newport, on the western border of the county, is on the shores of Sebasticook Lake, famous for its bass fishing, and is an important resort center.

Brewer, across the river from Bangor, is the site of the Eastern Manufacturing Company's pulp and paper plant and has numerous lesser industries. Orrington, Holden, Eddington and Clifton, also on the east side of the river are rural centers for agriculture and wood products plants, besides containing several ponds and streams for vacationing.

Immediately north of Bangor are Veazie, site of Maine's first railroad of wooden rails; Orono, with the 500-acre campus of the University of Maine and important small industries; and Old Town, small manufacturing city and site of the Indian Reservation which is the home of the remaining members of the Penobscot Tribe, a fragment of the once powerful Abnaki Nation.

Here on a large island in the middle of the river these early Americans still preserve many of their colorful traditions and customs and assemble the products of their handiwork. Best known of all Old Town products is the canoe, in which the skill and craftsmanship of the Indians reaches its highest peak in turning out this indispensable vehicle of transportation over Maine's lakes and waterways.

Northeast of Old Town the towns of Milford, Greenfield, Costigan, Greenbush, Passadumkeag, Lowell, Burlington, Olamon, Enfield and Lincoln lead to many fishing waters and big game sections of eastern Penobscot County. From Lincoln a highway runs eastward to Vanceboro on the New Brunswick border through Lee, Springfield, Carroll and Topsfield and is crossed by many streams and bordering lakes teeming with fish and of inspiring scenic beauty.

Sysladobsis Lake (usually called Lower Dobsis) is reached from Springfield over a good secondary road to the shores of the lake, which is at the northwest end of the famous Grand Lakes chain. This road, skirting Dill Ridge Mountain, leads to a wild lake country affording canoe trips of unusual interest, fine camping places and unexcelled fishing for salmon, trout, togue and pickerel.

Winn and Mattawamkeag, also on the east side of the Penobscot above Lincoln, are gateways to some of the best bass and trout fishing waterways in the State. In this eastern section of the county are the agricultural and lumbering communities of Prentiss, Drew, Kingman and Webster Plantation.

Northwest of Old Town, on the west side of the big river, are the farming and lumbering communities of Alton, Argyle, LaGrange, Edinburg, Maxfield and Howland, the latter at the confluence of the Piscataquis and the Penobscot and an industrial and agricultural village, with pulp and paper mills, where spring river drives of logs and pulp wood are a spectacular sight. North of Howland is Sebobeis on South Branch Lake and a lake, stream and mountain country extending to Sebobeis Lake in Piscataquis County, an area containing some of the largest small-mouth black bass in the State, as well as other fighting fish in the streams and lakes. Here also are Woodville and Chester, farming, lumbering and summer camp communities on the west bank of the Penobscot.

From Mattawamkeag a highway leads northwest to the lumber, pulp and manufacturing towns of Medway, East Millinocket and Millinocket, where are located the big mills of the great Northern Paper Company. These towns are also the gateways to Norcross, departure point for the Twin, Pemadumcook, Nahmakanta, Jo-Mary and Millinocket Lakes of the West Branch Chain and the Katahdin area, while the East Branch region of the Penobscot is reached through Medway to Grindstone, Stacyville, Sherman Station, Mt. Chase and Patten to Shin Pond. From Shin Pond northward is the large lake-studded area of Penobscot County which includes Mattagamom (Grand), Scraggly, Snowshoe, Grand and Sebobeis Lake and several mountains.

This is a region long famous with hunters, fishermen and campers, full of fighting fish and big game and spectacular in its wilderness distances. From here the wilderness extends into the vast reaches of northern Aroostook County.

NAHMAKANTA LAKE CAMPS

Aroostook County

Aroostook County, largest in the State, forms the northern and most of the eastern boundary of the State of Maine. Covering 6,453 square miles, not more than 20 per cent of the county is under cultivation as farm lands, yet that 20 per cent, or nearly a million acres, each Summer becomes New England's greatest flower garden, with thousands of acres of vari-colored potato blossoms and seas of white, red and crimson clover.

The remaining 80 per cent of this northern wonderland is a wilderness of dense forest, sparkling lakes and rushing rivers and streams, where fish and game in season can be had for the taking.

As the Potato Empire of the Nation and second richest agricultural county in the United States, Aroostook each year holds a potato festival during the height of the potato blossom season, attracting visitors from all sections of the country. During the Spring and Fall it is the goal of thousands of fishermen and hunters. It is a vacation area without peer in the Summer also, and its facilities and the popularity of its winter sports are renowned throughout the Northeast.

Geographically and commercially, Aroostook has four characteristic regions. The southern part of the county centers on Houlton; then there is the Presque Isle-Fort Fairfield-Caribou area; there is the Van Buren-Fort Kent-Eagle Lake area in the extreme northeast; and finally there is the vast expanse of roadless forest and hills, lakes, streams and rivers comprising the western part of the county. This is cut by such famous rivers as the Machias, Fish, Allagash, St. John, Big and Little Black and St. Francis, all flowing into the St. John to make it a broad, mighty river curving around the northern tip of Maine to where it flows down through New Brunswick to the sea.

Main highways enter Aroostook from the south at Macwahoc on Route No. 2 from Bangor and at Weston on Route No. 1 from Calais. From Macwahoc Route No. 2 follows the course of Molunkus Stream, with Molunkus Lake nearby, to Monarda, Silver Ridge and Golden Ridge to Island Falls. Another road, south of Macwahoc, passes the western side of Molunkus Lake to Benedicta, Sherman and Sherman Mills, all of them potato growing, lumbering, and hunting and fishing centers.

Island Falls likewise is a commercial center for farming, lumbering and nearby resorts. It is on the falls of the west branch of the Mattawamkeag River and has several lumber, wood products and leather mills. Northeast of Island Falls is the Pleasant Lake area, one of Theodore Roosevelt's favorite hunting and fishing spots. A road to the west from Island Falls leads to Crystal, Patten and the Shin Pond region.

Northeast the road passes through Dyer Brook, Merrill, Smyrna Mills, Oakfield and Ludlow to Houlton. These towns are potato raising and lumbering centers, with nearby lakes and streams teeming with bass, pickerel, salmon and white perch.

Houlton is the commercial and shopping center for this section of Aroostook, with several industries and the Trans-Atlantic Receiving Station of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Here also is the second junction in Maine of U. S. Routes One and Two and a crossing into Canada via Woodstock, N. B.

From Weston, with its magnificent view of East Grand Lake, Route One enters Aroostook on the way to Houlton and the north, passing through Orient, Amity, Cary and Hodgdon, all of them agricultural and lumbering communities. Alternate Route Two from Macwahoc, also cuts northeast to Houlton, passing through Reed, Haynesville, Glenwood and Linneus. This route traverses a mountain, lake and stream region, with Wytotpitlock Lake and Stream, and the East and West Branches of the Mattawamkeag, draining the surrounding wilderness areas.

North from Houlton Route One passes through Littleton, a potato farming community; Monticello, with excellent hunting and fishing along with its farms and lumbering; Bridgewater, a lumbering, potato and vacation center; to Mars Hill, a shopping center with an excellent view of the St. John River Valley. Mars Hill figured prominently in the historic border dispute between the United States and Great Britain.

Presque Isle is a modern city in the valley of the Aroostook River and is surrounded by some of the most fertile farm lands in the County. It is the center of an extensive potato growing region and from it a network of roads radiates to Ashland, Washburn, Caribou and Fort Fairfield, with other surrounding towns such as Westfield, Chapman, Mapleton, Castle Hill, Easton and Maple Grove centering the products of their farms and forests on the larger town.

Presque Isle also is the center of an extensive sports and vacationing area of lakes, streams and mountains. Here also is Aroostook Farm, a Federal-State-County jointly-sponsored experiment station conducting important farm research work on its 275 acres. Nearby Aroostook State Park is a 512-acre recreation spot both in Summer and Winter.

During the war the Presque Isle Airport was transformed into a gigantic, sprawling development which was the American terminus for trans-Atlantic flight.

Caribou is the potato shipping center for Northern Aroostook, annually sending out thousands of carloads for seed and market. It has the first municipal airport built in Maine and is the site of excellent trout and salmon fishing on the Aroostook and Little Madawaska Rivers and Caribou Stream, all flowing through the township. Caribou also has the world-famous Nylander Museum, with an unusual collection of fossil-bearing rock.

On the road from Caribou to Limestone, site of the great Northeast Army Air Base, is a State Fish Hatchery. Fort Fairfield is another potato and lumbering center and is a port of entry from Canada. North from Caribou are New Sweden and Stockholm, settled in 1870 by a Swedish colony. With Connor, these form a group of attractive farming communities. Route 161 from Caribou also leads to Guerette, between Cross Lake and Mud Lake and is the center of a large lake and stream region famous for trout, salmon and hunting. Sinclair, St. Agatha, Ouellette and Daigle are further north in the same region.

Van Buren is the largest of the northern boundary towns and here a bridge spans the St. John River, which parallels the main street. Lumber, pulp and potatoes are the chief activities besides its importance as a travel point into Canada. During long log drives, river operations here are spectacular.

Keegan, Lille, Grand Isle, St. David, Madawaska, Frenchville and Fort Kent are all St. John River towns settled by the Acadians and centers of farming, lumbering and pulp and paper operations. St. Agatha, south of Frenchville is a terminal point for the Fish River Chain of lakes across Northern Aroostook, while Fort Kent is the terminus of the famous Allagash River Canoe Trip. St. John, St. Francis, at the confluence of the St. Francis and St. John Rivers, and Allagash, to the west along the St. John, are settlements at the northern edge of the central Aroostook wilderness.

From Fort Kent Route 11 strikes south in almost a direct line to Mattawamkeag on the Penobscot. It traverses a scenic, unspoiled area of forests, lakes and mountains, with villages along the route dependent mainly on sportsmen, trapping, small-scale farming and lumbering. It traverses Michaud, Wallagrass, Eagle Lake, Winterville, Portage and Nashville to Ashland, all regions on the Fish River Chain and with waters having an abundance of landlocked salmon, trout and togue. Hunting and canoeing through this region are excellent.

South of Ashland, an important lumber, potato and sporting camp center, is Masardis, center of a region of extremely fertile soil, lake and stream fishing and hunting, and famous Squa Pan Lake and Mountains. Oxbow also is a hunting and fishing center for sportsmen, leading into a beautiful region along the Upper Aroostook River, Mooseleuk Stream and many lakes. From here Route 11 leads into Patten in Penobscot County.

Maine Invites You

Let us assist you

STATE OF MAINE PUBLICITY BUREAU

OFFICIAL INFORMATION SERVICE

FOR 28 YEARS the State of Maine Publicity Bureau has been providing a free, complete and personalized information service about the Pine Tree State, its resources, facilities and accommodations. It is the pioneer among State-wide publicity and promotional agencies and has been of valuable service to millions of people during those years.

You, too, are cordially invited to make full use of our facilities—free at all times—when planning your visit and after you arrive in Maine. Our primary goal is to make your visit to Maine as enjoyable as possible.

Our home office, pictured above, is at the traffic circle (Gateway Circle) at the southern highway entrance to Portland; you will find branch and allied information offices located at more than 40 strategic points throughout the State of Maine; and you will find our New York Office in the R. C. A. Building at 30 Rockefeller Plaza.

Visit the Pine Tree State this year—

MAINE INVITES YOU!
