of the
U.S.S. OGLETHORPE

Log of the U.S.S. Oglethorpe

The U.S.S. OGLETHORPE (AKA-100), was built by the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, Kearny, New Jersey, for the U. S. Maritime Service, and converted to the U. S. Naval Service under current emergency war acts. The keel of the vessel was laid on December 26, 1944, and the ship was launched April 15, 1945. Mrs. Ellsworth Buck, wife of Representative Buck of New York, sponsored the ship at launching. The ship is named for Oglethorpe County, Georgia, which in turn, was named in honor of James Oglethorpe, founder of the State of Georgia. The vessel was completed on June 4, 1945, made its trial runs on 4 and 5 June, 1945, was accepted by the U. S. Navy on June 5, 1945, and commissioned for duty on June 6, 1945, at Pier "J", Berth 15, U. S. Navy Yard, Brooklyn, New York. The ship's company was on board at the time of commissioning.

Captain McKittrich, U. S. Navy, Captain of the Navy Yard, Brooklyn, New York, read the commissioning directive and ordered the ship placed in full commission. Captain James C. Campbell, U. S. Naval Reserve, assumed command, with Lieutenant Commander Mark L. Gilbert, U. S. Naval Reserve, as Executive Officer. Mrs. Ellsworth Buck, the sponsor, was present. Lieutenant Joseph Leicht, U. S. Navy Retired, assumed the first watch as Officer-of-the-Deck. At the time of Commissioning, the following number of men and officers were attached to this vessel; Ship's Company: 25 Officers; 215 Enlisted Men. Boat Group: 11 Officers; 115 Enlisted Men.

Upon completion of post-commissioning alterations, this vessel participated in several short cruises and practice amphibious landings. The official shake-down of this vessel was completed on June 26, 1945. During these practice runs, the landing force equipment, including 15 LCVP's, 8 LCM's and 1 LCPL was received at Hampton Roads, Virginia. On July 4, 1945, the Oglethorpe reported for duty as a training ship at Newport, Rhode Island. From Newport, Rhode Island, the Oglethorpe reported to Norfolk, Virginia, on July 24, 1945, for cargo and "Anchor's Away" for overseas.

The Oglethorpe steamed down through the Caribbean, through the Panama Canal, and then organized into its first convoy on August 8, 1945, at the Pacific side of the Panama Canal; consisting of the AKA-95, AKA-100 and three Coast Guard maned friggets. During this voyage from Panama to the Hawaiian Islands, the official confirmation of the Japanese Surrender was received aboard at five-fifteen p. m. on August 15, 1945.

The Oglethorpe's maiden load of cargo was dispatched at Pearl Harbor, and from there, she moved over to Honolulu, where the second load was taken aboard. On September 22, 1945, while anchored at Honolulu, Commander Mark L. Gilbert, U. S. Naval Reserve, relieved Captain James C. Campbell, U. S. Naval Reserve, as Commanding Officer of this vessel.

The Oglethorpe steamed out of Honolulu on September 26, 1945, and her itinerary from this point is as follows: Kwajalein and Eniwetok, Marshall Islands; Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands; Noumea, New Caledonia; Nuku Fetau, Ellice Islands, and then arriving back at Honolulu on December 5, 1945.

On the above mentioned cruise, and on November 4, 1945, the Oglethorpe crossed the Equator, Latitude, 00-00, Longitude 163-28E. At this time, the (U. S. Navy), traditional initiation of the Domain of Neptunas Rex took place, with A. J. Swanstrom, CEM, as Ruler of the Raging Main and H. B. Adcock, CFS, U. S. Navy, as his Royal Scribe.

The Oglethorpe steamed out of Honolulu on December 12, 1945, and arrived in Seattle, Washington, on December 20, 1945. Several of the crew were transferred for discharge and the majority of those remaining were given a well deserved leave of absence, which made the long sought dream of Christmas at home a reality.

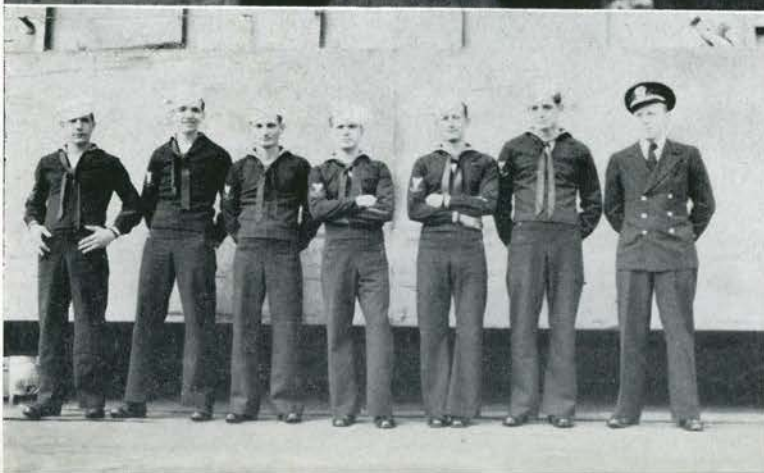

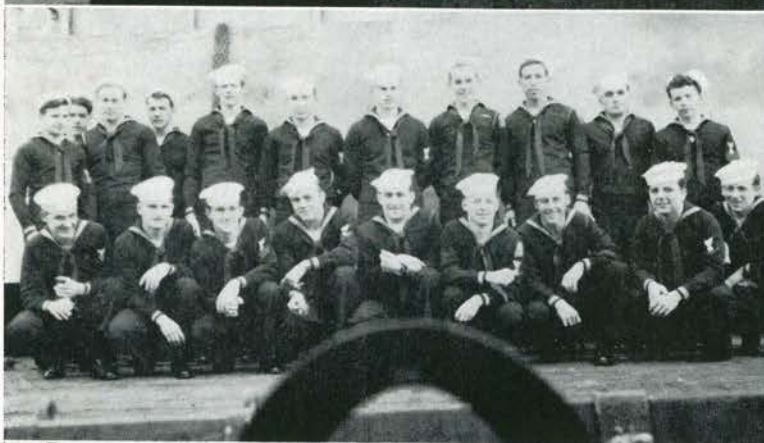

During the arrangement and publication of this book, the Oglethorpe was tied up in Seattle, Washington, undergoing repairs, alterations and dry docking facilities.
